In Friday's Push the British Captured 6,000 Germans and Advanced to Point in Three Miles of Cambrai.

AMERICANS AND FRENCH ADVANCE IN CHAMPAGNE

Pershing's Men Have Captured 8,000 Germans and Over 100 Guns—The French Have Taken Over 10,000 Prisoners in Champagne Drive.

London, September 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—British troops today advanced to a point within three miles of Cambrai. They took between 5,000 and 6,000 prisoners. Some German guns, including a complete battery, were captured by Field Marshal Haig's men.

The British attack today on the Cambrai front was made between Sauchy-Lestree and Gouzeaucourt, a distance of fourteen miles.

Haig's maximum advance today was three miles. The Hindenburg outpost defenses were crossed at several points. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the British line ran southwest of Gouzeaucourt, east of Beaucamp, west of Marcoing and east of Graincourt, where some of the enemy were still holding out. Thence it ran between Anneux and Cantaing and east of Bourlon and the Bourlon wood, a thousand yards west of Raillencourt, and along the road to Marcoing. It is not known whether the British or the Germans hold Marcoing.

The capture of Bourlon is of the highest importance, because it is the bulwark of Cambrai. It was captured, notwithstanding the water line in front of it, the whole of which has now been crossed.

The British are in a good position to capture Cambrai. Even now the enemy cannot use the town, as the railway, roads and junction are under the British fire.

U. S. TROOPS AID BRITISH.

London, September 27.—Americans operating on the extreme right of the British this morning captured a series of trenches and fortified farms forming the outer defenses of the Hindenburg system southwest of Lecatelet, north of St. Quentin, according to the official report from Field Marshal Haig tonight.

The text of the report follows:

"Portions of our first and third armies, under the command, respectively, of Generals Sir Henry Horne and Sir Julian Byng, attacked this morning before dawn on a wide front in the general direction of Cambrai.

"Notwithstanding the great strength of the enemy's positions, especially in the northern sector of the attack, where the Canal du Nord and open ground sloping toward the enemy rendered our advance most difficult, all our objectives have been reached.

"Farther north the Fifth division captured Beaucamp and, combining with Lanchsire men of the Forty-second division, have cleared Beaucamp ridge, which runs northeastwards toward Marcoing.

"On the right center, guards and the Third division of the Sixth corps, under General Haldane, breaking through the enemy's defenses east of Havrincourt, carried the village of Flesquieres and gined possession of a long spur which

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN IN ATLANTA TODAY FOR LIBERTY BONDS

First Day Will Be Devoted to Preliminary Canvassing and Lining Up Workers Preparatory to Big Push.

SALESMEN TO GET BUSY IN CITY MONDAY NIGHT

Theater Managers Have Promised to Co-operate in Movement — Officials Confident Great Showing Will Be Made.

There is one thought, one all-engrossing objective, one determination this morning in the hearts and minds of the people of the sixth federal reserve district an of the nation: Buy bonds.

Every man, woman and child, rich and poor, white and black, is determined that bonds of the fourth Liberty Loan shall be bought until, before the close of the three weeks' drive, Atlanta shall have more than filled her quota of $14,204,150, Georgia her quota of $55,000,000, the sixth district her quota of $192,000,000, and the entire country the minimum sum of six billions.

In Atlanta Saturday will be devoted to peliminary canvassing and lining up of the workers preparatory to the big push which comes on at 7 o'clock Monday night. A sort of limbering up of the salesmanship abilities, as it were, for today.

Will Stay at Home.

Between the hours of 7 and 9, on Monday night, every Atlantan will stay at home and leave a light burning in the window. The home fires will be kept burning, and at every house in the city, workers will call to receive the pledges of each individual for the utmost limit in bonds that they can buy. But everyone must remember that unless they subscribe for an amount that will strain their resources to the very breaking point, that will leave their bank accounts, securities and credit thin to emaciation, that they have done nothing in comparison to the sons, brothers and fathers who are laying down their lives on the altar of liberty on the sacred soil of blood-stained France.

The theater managers of the city have agreed to co-operate to the utmost in this drive to put Atlanta well over on Monday night.

Lewis Haase, manager of the Atlanta theater, announced on Friday that the curtain would not rise on "Some Baby," the new show which comes to his house on Monday, until 9:30. This will allow everybody to stay at home until the hour of 9, by which time the workers for bond sales will have called at every house.

It is impossible for the managers of the motion picture and vaudeville houses which run continuous performances to arrange their bills so as to remain closed for three hours, according to their statements, but Hugh Cardoza, president of the Theater Man-

ROBT. F. MADDOX HEADS BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

Atlantan Is Elected President by the Convention at Chicago.

Atlanta was paid a high tribute yesterday when Robert F. Maddox, president of the Atlanta National bank, and one of the best-known financiers in the country, was elected president of the American Bankers' association, at the closing session of the forty-fourth annual meeting in Chicago.

The election of Mr. Maddox was a tribute to the untiring interest he has taken in the affairs of this great organization and the ability he has shown in his work on the important committees, on which he has served.

R. S. Hawes, of St. Louis, was elected first vice president, and John S. Drum, of San Francisco, second vice president.

Long Banking Experience.

Mr. Maddox was born in 1870. After leaving Harvard he entered the employ of the Maddox-Rucker Banking company, which was founded by his father in 1890, as collector, and filled every position in the bank up to the vice pres-

Croix de Guerre For Atlanta Girl For Work Under Fire

Miss Norman Derr Decorated by French Government for Bravery While Tending Wounded.

Miss Norman Derr, of Atlanta, has been decorated by the French government with the Croix de Guerre for "bravery displayed under fire while caring for the wounded, is the message which has come to her father, Dr. E. Z. Derr, of East Lake, Decatur, Ga. She is the sister of Dr. John S. Derr, now in France serving with the Emory unit.

Miss Derr was in Europe studying art when the war began in 1914. She left the studios for a nurse training school, and as soon as she qualified she was assigned to duty in a French military hospital. From the beginning she displayed efficiency and bravery, and when home on furlough two years ago she had been given the rank of lieutenant in the French army.

She has had a book published under the caption, "Mlle. Miss," which has been sold, the book a compilation of her letters written to relatives in Boston and published to be sold for the relief in the French hospitals.

While in Atlanta Miss Derr delivered a series of talks on the work to be done in the war hospitals, and she was the inspiration of the initiative work then done by Atlanta women in war relief.

Occasional messages have been received from her, but the last letters indicated constant care and duties in a hospital very near the front line trenches, where she had many thrilling experiences.

The new decoration of this Georgia girl will be a source of great inspiration to those who are contemplating enrollment in the United States nurses' reserve.

OVER ALPS TO PARIS D'ANNUNZIO GOES IN AN AIRPLANE

Paris, September 27.—Gabriel d'Annunzio, the Italian author-aviator, landed in France yesterday from an airplane in which he had flown from Italy across the Alps. His flight was 290 miles.

Captain d'Annunzio left Turin at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and arrived at Chalons, behind the French front about noon. He made the passage of the Alps quickly. He used the same machine which he had flown over Vienna last August and the same pilot, Captain Palli, guided the machine.

Captain d'Annunzio, after landing at Chalons, joined General Albricci, commanding the Italians on the French front, and was warmly received by his compatriots.

INJUNCTION ASKED BY CITY REFUSED BY COURT FRIDAY

Judge Littlejohn Holds That Railroad Commission Had the Right to Change Terms of the Contract Between Power Company and Atlanta.

CITY WILL APPEAL CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT

In Meantime Company Is Ordered to Keep Account of Amounts Collected for Higher Gas, Power and Electric Light Rates.

At the conclusion of the hearing in the superior court on the petition of the city of Atlanta and the citizens' committee for an injunction to prevent the enforcement of the 33 1-3 per cent increase in electric light, gas and power rates late yesterday afternoon, Judge Z. A. Littlejohn, of Americus, handed down a ruling denying the restraining order asked.

In his order he held that the railroad commission had the right to instruct such increases, and to change rates even where a contract existed. At the same time he ordered the Georgia Railway and Power company to keep a strict account of all increases to individual consumers, so that in the event his decision should be set aside in a higher court, the consumers would be able to secure a rebate on the amounts they had paid. The higher rates go into effect immediately.

Judge George L. Bell, in the motion division of the Fulton superior court, granted the city a temporary injunction several weeks ago. But he, along with Judge M. G. Tarver, of the Cherokee circuit, and Judge Peter Meldrim, of Savannah, disqualified themselves to sit in the temporary injunction suit.

Claims Made by City.

Counsel for the city contended that the railroad commission in granting the rate increase, based its conclusions on an erroneous array of facts. It was claimed that the property valuation of the Georgia Railway and Power company and its associate properties was arrived at by the commission through the consideration of information not presented as evidence at the original hearing before the commission. The plaintiffs insist that in this case, the findings of the commission are illegal.

It was claimed that no matter was introduced before the commission to show the actual valuation of the properties controlled by the power company, and that the commission went outside the records and took into consideration a property valuation made in 1912 by an engineer named George Baehr, employed by the power company to make a valuation at the time the Georgia Rialway and Electric company was absorbed. This valuation, the municipality claims, was decidedly incorrect and excessive in that it fixed

THAT IS ANSWER MADE BY WILSON TO GERMAN TALK

Peace Not Question of Terms for Germans; As They Have Made Coming to Terms Impossible.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO GUARANTEE PEACE

Because These Will Be Parties To Pact Whose Promises Have Proved Untrustworthy --- Germany Must Redeem Character By What Follows the Peace Council.

New York, September 27.—The price of peace will be impartial justice to all nations, the instrumentality indispensable to secure it is a league of nations formed not before or after, but at the peace conference; and Germany, as a member, "will have to redeem her character not by what happens at the peace table, but by what follows."

This was President Wilson's answer given tonight before an audience of fourth Liberty Loan workers here, to the recent peace talk from the central powers, although he did not refer specifically to the utterances of enemy leaders.

Germany Can't Be Trusted.

Peace was not a question, declared the president, of "coming to terms," for "we cannot 'come to terms' with them," as "they have made it impossible." Peace must be guaranteed, for "there will be parties to the peace whose promises have proved untrustworthy and means must be found in connection with the peace settlement to remove that source of insecurity." "It would be folly to leave the guarantee to the subsequent voluntary action of the governments we have seen destroy Russia and deceive Rumania," continued the president.

The president emphasized that the justice to be obtained by the league must involve no discrimination toward any people. This he sets forth explicitly in a set of five principles which he enumerated as "the practical program" of America's peace terms, and for the maintenance of which "the United States is prepared to assume its full share of responsibility."

These principles were, he said:

"First, the impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites, and knows no standard but the equal rights of the several peoples concerned.

"Second, no special or separate interest of any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement, which is not consistent with the common interests of all.

"Third, there can be no league of alliances or special covenants and understandings within the general and common family of the league of nations.

"Fourth, and more specifically, there can be no special, selfish economic combinations within the league and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control.

"Fifth, all international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known in their entirety to the rest of the world."

Issues of War Restated.

Mr. Wilson restated the issues of the war as follows:

"Shall the military power of any nation or any group of nations be suf-

TURKEY EXPECTED TO FOLLOW LEAD OF BEATEN ALLY AND SEEK PEACE

With Bulgaria Out of the War, the Back Door of Austria Will Stand Ajar Before Victorious British, French, Serbian and Italian Armies.

ALLIES CONSIDERING BULGARIAN REQUEST FOR TERMS OF PEACE

King Ferdinand Has Sent Delegates to Allied Commander in the Balkans, But Latter Has Referred Matter to Paris—No Reply Will Be Made Until United States, Britain, France and Italy Exchange Views.

New York, September 27.—(By Associated Press. From European Cables of the Day.)—With the welding of the armies of the entente into a compact whole under command of the inter-allied war council, guided by the masterly strategy of Marshal Foch, apparently has come the first break in the united front of the central powers.

Bulgaria, smaller of the Teutonic allies, seems to have struck her colors. Premier Malinoff has asked for an armistice to consider terms of peace. Whether he is acting upon his own responsibility as the representative of a revolutionary party or with the approval of King Ferdinand and the government, remains in doubt. In either case, however, there is little doubt that Bulgaria has ceased to be a military factor in the war. Her armies are in full retreat and her soil has been invaded.

Secession of the Balkan state from the thraldom of Germany will be almost as severe a blow to the Teutonic alliance as was the collapse of Russia to the allies.

If Bulgaria lays down her arms, Turkey, her armies shattered by the coup of General Allenby in Palestine, will be cut off from her allies. Her lines of communication will be severed except across the Black sea through Rumania or over the mountain peaks of trans-Caucasia in Russia, where the grip of the German-controlled Bolsheviki is becoming steadily weaker.

With her supplies of German-made munitions and raw materials hanging by such a slender thread, military observers believe the Ottoman empire will have no course left but to follow the example of her Balkan neighbor.

But it makes little difference to the is the valuation of the properties, the estimated cost of reproducing those properties in 1912 and failing to take into consideration the fact that the properties had been in use for many years.

This was the principal basis on which the city asked for a permanent injunction, although there were several other points of contention.

It is further pointed out by counsel for the municipality that in 1912 the city government and the power company came to an agreement as to service rates and that these rates were filed with the railroad commission. It is contended that the commission assented to these rates and that under the law it has no power to alter them.

Power Company's Contention.

The power company contended that in regard to the legality of the findings of the commission in granting the rate increases, the commission had a right to consider information gathered from all possible sources, whether it was obtained at a formal hearing or secured by private investigation. Attorneys for the company also insisted that the power company is not bound by a contract made in 1912 with the city of Atlanta.

Attorney Reuben R. Arnold stated Friday that the citizens' committee would appeal the decision of Judge Littlejohn to the supreme court, and that it would be the first time since the commission was created by the legislature in 1907 that the supreme court has been called on to define the authority and jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

The municipality and the citizens' committee are represented by Attorneys Reuben R. Arnold, E. E. Pomeroy, Charles E. Cotterill, City Attorney James L. Mayson and Assistant City Attorney Sam D. Hewlett.

Counsel for the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Atlanta Gas Light company include the firms of Rosser, Slaton, Phillips & Hopkins; Smith, Hammond & Smith; Brewster, Howell & Heyman; Colquitt & Conyers; Jones & Chambers; King & Spalding; C. T. L. C. & John L. Hopkins.

Judge James K. Hines, attorney for the railroad commission, represented that body.

idency, which position he occupied with the Maddox-Rucker Banking company in 1908, when it was converted into the American National bank. In 1917, the American National was consolidated with the Atlanta National and the combined institutions, under Mr. Maddox as president, is one of the largest banks in the south.

Mr. Maddox was a delegate to the convention of American bankers held in Chicago in August, 1913, called for the purpose of considering the banking act then pending in congress. He was appointed on the committee to revise the act, and was also appointed a member of the committee of seven, of which James B. Forgan was chairman, which presented the views of the bankers of the United States before the banking and currency committee of the senate. The labors of this committee resulted in securing many important changes in the bill after it had passed the house. The Federal Reserve system of today bears the imprint of this committee's work.

Active in Civic Matters.

Mr. Maddox has always taken an active interest in civic and commercial affairs, in connection with which he has occupied many positions of honor and distinction. He served as a member of the board of commissioners of Fulton county in 1907 and 1908, resigning when he was elected mayor of Atlanta, a position he held with distinction during 1909 and 1910.

As president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce in 1904 and 1905, Mr. Maddox did some splendid work for the city and its commercial interests. His well-known service in this and other connections resulted in his selection as vice president of the south of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and also vice president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. In 1912 Mr. Maddox served as president of the Georgia Bankers' association and was elected a member of the executive council of the American Bankers' association in 1916. He is a trustee of Vanderbilt university, a member of the Georgia state board of health, and a director of the Seaboard Air Line railway, of the Georgia Railway and Power company and also of other well-known corporations.

The convention before adjournment adopted a recommendation of the state bank section uring all states to pass laws which will make it desirable for all state banks and trust companies to become members of the federal reserve system.

The constitution of the association was changed, increasing the number of vice presidents from one to two and providing for adequate representation of state banks in the list of officers. Under this arrangement the state banks will be given the presidency of the organization in 1920.

The government's agricultural war plan providing for the active co-operation of bankers, farmers and the federal food administration in stimulating production and eliminating waste was indorsed by the association.

After a lively discussion the delegates declined to approve an indorsement of a bankers' mutual bond and burglar insurance company.

KAISER WILLIAM FLED TO CELLAR TO ESCAPE BOMBS

Geneva, September 27.—Emperor William, Field Marshal Duke Albrecht, of Wurttemberg, and Prince Stephen, of Schaumburg-Lippe, were in Mannheim last week when British airmen raided the city. The royal party, according to The Democrate, of Geneva, was staying in the royal palace and the emperor and his staff promptly took refuge in the cellar, remaining there twenty minutes. The palace was not hit, as it had been during a previous raid, but bombs fell in the vicinity.

The royal party spent last week in Alsace-Lorraine, stopping at the chief Rhine towns. Military hospitals generally were visited and public ceremonies were avoided.

The object of the visit, the newspaper adds, was to appease the unrest and fear of the population owing to the approach to the frontier of allied armies and the constant aerial bombing.

Announcement was made in London Sunday that British airmen had attacked Mannheim Saturday, September 21.

LAWYERS EXPECTED TO GIVE SERVICES

President Wilson Contemplated That Attorneys Would Aid Registrants Without Charge, Says Major Mallet.

Quoting the first sentence of the Manual for Legal Advisory Boards, which says: "Every lawyer should deem it a privilege to and a patriotic duty to stand ready and willing to advise registrants," Major Joel B. Mallet, director of the draft in Georgia, yesterday issued a most interesting statement regarding the question of charges being made by attorneys for aiding registrants in filling out questionnaires.

Major Mallet also quotes President Wilson's call upon the lawyers, as well as other patriotic citizens, to give whatever aid that might be necessary to men called for military service, or who are unable, without assistance, to fill out the intricate papers that are sent them by the war department. The state draft officer also declares that he has investigated many alleged instances of lawyers having charged for services to registrants, but that none were proven.

Call of the President.

The call of President Wilson upon lawyers or citizens generally to aid in the draft, is as follows: "I call upon all citizens to assist local and district boards by proffering such services as they can offer and by appearing before such boards, either upon summons or upon their own initiative, to give such information as will be useful to in classifying registrants, I urge men of the legal profession to offer themselves as associate members of the legal advisory boards to be provided in each community for the purpose of advising registrants of their rights and obligations and of assisting them in the preparation of their answers to the questions which all men subject to draft are required to submit."

"It can be seen from the above," said Major Mallet, "that the president contemplated that every lawyer throughout the nation would offer his services as a member of the legal advisory board; that it was contemplated that this service should be uncompensated there can be no doubt. In fact, it was made a law by presidential regulations, sections 203, selective service regulations, which reads as follows: 'The service of members of legal advisory boards, prescribed in section 30, shall be uncompensated.'"

It has been the custom of lawyers to render this service, according to Major Mallet, and resulted from an appeal made by the president and the governor. He states that noble service has been rendered by the lawyers of Georgia, and that, although many instances have been brought to his attention where it has been stated that lawyers had charged for the services rendered registrants, that none of these cases had been proven where the lawyers in question were members of the legal advisory board.

Mr. Watkins' Card.

With reference to the situation The Constitution is in receipt of a card from Edgar Watkins, head of the Fulton County Council of Defense, and a prominent atorney, which is as follows:

Editor Constitution: In reference to the statement that some lawyers in the state are charging fees for services rendered to registrants where they are seeking exemption on various grounds, I would like to say that as a class no men have displayed greater patriotism than the lawyers. A larger proportion of lawyers are actively serving in the army than of any other class. Many lawyers, who for different reasons, are unable to obtain the right to serve in the army, are anxiously desirous of serving elsewhere.

Among the services volunteered by the American Bar association was that of helping registrants. The selective service law embraces those who are entitled to deferred classification, and it is just as much the duty of lawyers and of the general public to enforce these provisions of the law as it is to enforce any other provisions of the law. The right to deferred classification is a legal right and our country has said who should and who should not serve. No lawyer should aid a man in obtaining deferred classification if he is not entitled thereto, but every lawyer is interested to see that the man who is entitled to deferred classification shall receive his rights.

I regret that lawyers anywhere propose to charge anything. No reputable lawyer in Atlanta has ever made any charge. It is our duty to serve those who, by law, are compelled to answer their questionnaires, and it is a service that every lawyer in Atlanta, at great personal inconvenience and some loss of business, patriotically performs.

I hope you will give publicity to this in order that the people of this county and of this senatorial district will know that the lawyers are ready to perform their duty just as the registrant is performing his.

Yours very truly,
EDGAR WATKINS,
Chairman Thirty-fifth Senatorial District Legal Advisory Board.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES

Lieutenant Killorin and Lieutenant Huck Meet Death at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Texas, September 27.—Second Lieutenants George W. Killorin, Jr., of Wakefield, Mass., aged 22, and Herbert Huck, of Wadesville, Ind., aged 24, were instantly killed at 12:40 this afternoon when their plane fell near Taliaferro field. Both men were attached to the school of aerial gunnery. Lieutenant Killorin was the son of a prominent contractor living at 72 West Chestnut street, Wakefield, Mass.

Lieutenant Carlson Injured.

Brenham, Texas, September 27.—Lieutenant F. N. Carlson, of Loda, Ill., was seriously injured and two airplanes of a squadron of eight machines from Ellington field, Houston, were badly damaged, and one virtually demolished at Phillipsburg, six miles south of Brenham, at noon today. The accidents were due to squally weather, which forced the machines into fences when they alighted.

More Liberty Theaters.

Washington, September 27.—Liberty theaters to cost $38,700 each will be constructed at Camp Wheeler, Georgia; Camp Wadsworth, South Carolina, and Camp Hancock, Georgia, the war department announced today. The theaters will be similar to those in other camps. Work on them will be started at once by the construction division.

NO PRICE-FIXING FOR COTTON CROP AT PRESENT TIME

Official Announcement by Distribution Committee. Certain Stabilizing Plans Are Being Tested.

Washington, September 27.—The war industries board's committee on cotton distribution announced today that it will not recommend that a price be fixed on raw cotton at the present time, nor will it so recommend in any event before sufficient time has elapsed to test the effect as a stabilizing influence of the work assigned to the committee unless unexpected changes of such violence should occur as to threaten the welfare of legitimate interests.

The statement, signed by Thomas W. Page, chairman of the board's cotton committee, and Chairman Brand, of the committee on cotton distribution, warns the cotton interests against giving credence to unauthorized reports or rumors purporting to come from the two committees. They are urged to proceed in the normal transaction of business without uncertainty or hesitation.

The committee on cotton distribution has been organized, it is stated, and has been directed to effect as quickly as possible an equitable distribution of cotton as to quantity and also as to grade among both domestic and foreign manufacturers, with a special view to providing for the proper utilization of the surplus of grades below middling.

All purchases both for foreign and domestic consumption will continue to be made at market prices through the marketing and distribution agencies commonly used, unless the cotton committee shall determine that a necessity has arisen for making a change.

UNITED WAR WORK MEETING AT MACON

Constructive and Inspirational Meeting Is Attended by Eighty or Ninety Women — Campaign Enthused.

Macon, Ga., September 27.—(Special.) With Miss Leona Westbrook, state chairman, presiding, a constructive and inspirational meeting of the Macon district of the United War Work campaign was held here today at the clubrooms of the Patriotic league, followed by a luncheon at the hostess house at Camp Wheeler, where Mrs. Van Dahlen was hostess.

Between eight yand innetywomen, including county chairmen and other prominent workers, attended the meeting. Among the speakers were the following prominent Y. W. C. A. leaders: Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, president of the Georgia Federation of Woman's Clubs; Miss Leona MacGeorge, city secretary of the South Atlantic field; Mrs. Van Dahlen, direstor of the hostess house at Camp Wheeler; Miss Hudson, employment secretary in the Macon district, and Mrs. Rogers Winton, state editor of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Black's Message.

Mrs. Black discussed "Woman's Part in the War Program," the burden of her address being that the women of Georgia have complied with every request that the government has made. She gave a sketch of the free and easy response made by them in every branch of war work, citing, as an instance, the response given to the appeal for canned goods for convalescent soldiers, stating that 40,000 cans have already been contributed.

Mrs. Black brought a timely message to the negro women from a negro soldier who has just returned from overseas, this negro soldier having declared, she said, that the negro women of Georgia were outstanding examples of the geninus called "slacker." He attirbuted this slacking to a blindness of patriotic duty.

Miss MacGeorge gave a comprehensive survey of war work the Y. W. C. A. is doing, showing how the association is co-poreating with the government bureaus and housing service, opening cafeteras in large cities, offering recreation and entertainment of leisure hours and inaugurating a campaign of social morality.

The other stressed the value of emergency work and publicity.

Outline of Campaign.

Following the luncheon at the hostess house at Camp Wheeler, Miss Westbrook outlined the plan of organization for each county.

Each county will have a chairman, who is to be a man, a woman chairman of woman's work, a publicity committee, a negro work committee, with a white chairman, a boys' and girls' victory committee and a separate organization for students' work. A campaign of publicity will include advertisement of county fairs by means of miniature huts and hostess houses, downtown booths and co-operation of county demonstration agents.

District meetings will be held in the ten Y. M. C. A. districts of the state, and speakers will be secured for these gatherings. Absolute co-operation with the men's committees is to be observed.

On November 11, the opening day of the campaign, no soliciting will be done; the time to be taken up with inspirational meetings, and on the day following the workers will go "out after them."

TOOTH SUFFERING STOPPED BY PAINLESS METHODS

At the Atlanta Dental Parlors, One of the Oldest and Most Popular Dental Institutions in the Southern States — Fifteen Years in Atlanta.

Thousands of people neglect their teeth. Many of them let their teeth actually decay rather than take a chance on the ordinary dentist, fearing to suffer the pain usually caused. But there would be no suffering at all if they went to the Atlanta Dental Parlors, where only the new painless methods are in use and where only the highest grade of dental work is done. Everyone's teeth should be examined by a competent dentist at least twice a year, as the dentist can frequently find hidden points of decay that are not visible ordinarily. A free examination can be had any time at the Atlanta Dental Parlors, corner Decatur and Peachtree streets (entrance 19½ Peachtree), Dr. C. A. Constantine, proprietor and in charge. Call any time. Sunday office hours, 9 to 1.—(adv.)

GEN. GORGAS TO RETIRE; IRELAND TO SUCCEED

Washington, September 27.—Major General William C. Gorgas will reach the age of retirement next month and probably will be succeeded as surgeon general of the army by Major General M. W. Ireland, now General Pershing's chief medical adviser.

While officials today would not discuss the retirement of General Gorgas, there seemed to be a strong impression among officers that the general will be recalled to active service and assigned to the inter-allied military council in France. The general now is inspecting medical and hospital facilities of the expeditionary forces, having gone to France with Secretary Baker.

General Gorgas' won international fame when he cleaned up the Panama Canal zone and there is no likelihood that his services can be spared during the present war emergency. Shortly before his departure for France, Secretary Baker indicated that he had no intention of permitting Dr. Gorgas to retire to private life. It is known, however, that General Gorgas himself expected that his status would be changed before his return from France as the date for his retirement would come before his inspection duty abroad could be finished.

WOUNDED "RAINBOW" NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

Birmingham, Ala., September 27.—Major Dallas B. Smith, 167th infantry, Rainbow division, who was severely wounded in France by the same shell which killed Captain Mortimer Jordan, has been nominated for governor of Alabama by the republican state executive committee.

Major Smtih, who is still in France, but has been ordered invalided home, was notified by cable this afternoon of his nomination by Chairman Pope M. Long, of the republican committee.

CUTICURA HEALS SKIN TROUBLE

On Baby, In Big Blisters, Cross and Fretful and Lost Sleep.

"When baby was about a month and a half old, both sides of his face, ears, and forehead got something like dandruff. It was dry and scaly and he scratched until it broke out in big blisters. I had to make little gloves and keep his hands tied up. He was cross and fretful, and the eruption caused him to lose sleep. The breaking disfigured his face.

"I decided to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment. He found great relief and I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment which healed him." (Signed) Mrs. Violet Steely, 1322 Burnet St., Paducah, Ky.

BEST MEN WANTED FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Edgar Neely Writes Card Showing Position of the School Improvement Association on the Education Board Election.

In an effort to induce the people of the five school districts that are to be formed by the combination of the ten existing wards of the city to exert themselves in the interest of improving the school situation in Atlanta, Edgar M. Neely, recently elected chairman of the Atlanta School Improvement association, has sent a communication to The Constitution, in which he calls attention to the fact that the only way in which the best men from the various districts may be induced to run for the new school board is through the efforts of the citizens who will interest themselves in this campaign.

Mr. Neely stresses the point that the people in the various districts are best qualified to bring out the most available men for the school commission, and he urges those who have the interests of the schools at heart to think deeply over the situation and to use every means to induce good men to offer.

Work of the Committee.

The work of the committee, which is to be appointed by Chairman Neely, as explained by him, is of an inspirational character, simply seeking to bring out the best men for candidacy, and to bring about other such improvements in the present school system as are most needed. He urges every one interested to study the situation carefully.

The work of the committee that is soon to be named by Mr. Neely will be to bring out good men in each district, but not to confine themselves to the naming of one candidate. The object of the patrons' meeting, as explained by the leaders, is not to preclude the candidacy of any one, but to stimulate the good men of each community to get into the race.

Mr. Neely, who returns to Atlanta this morning, will soon announce the names of the men and women he will appoint of the committee. He has been so busy with his work on the Fourth Liberty Loan that he has been unable yet to complete the pernonnel of the committee.

Mr. Neely's Statement.

The statement of the chairman of the Atlanta School Improvement association follows:

"Editor Constitution: Having been placed in charge of the four minutes speakers for the Liberty Loan in this city, I have not had a moment as yet in which to consider the composition of the important school committee authorized by the recent mass meeting. Lest there should be misunderstanding, however, I hope you will make it plain that this committee will not be charged with the duty of nominating candidates from various school districts. That is a duty and a privilege which belongs to the people themselves and to the various school districts, and the work of this committee is to be simply of an inspirational character to stimulate the action of local community organizations and to urge them to agree upon a good man in each district who will be agreeable to both wards and thoroughly representative of the citizens thereof.

"In the meantime I particularly urge that the people be giving thought to this matter and discussing it through their school activities, local gatherings and other ways which will enable them to express their wishes and bring out a good man for the place.

"As soon as the various districts have agreed on their candidates it is proposed that the general committee will report their names to a second mass meeting, at which it is hoped the ticket will receive the indorsement of the entire city.

"EDGAR A. NEELY."

BULGARIAN BREAK RUIN FOR GERMANY

entente whether the Turk abandons Germany and Austria. If Bulgaria quits, he can no longer be a menace to their plans.

BACK DOOR OF AUSTRIA.

The back door of Austria will stand ajar before the victorious British, French, Serbian, Greek and Italian armies plunging ahead through the mountains of liberated Serbia. Only 230 miles ahead of their advance guards is Belgrade, across the Danube from the plans of Hungary. They already have pressed forward a quarter of this distance since the great Macedonian offensive began on September 14. Once over the river they would be passing through territory occupied by the "oppressed nationalities" of Austria, who have little love for the dual empire, and there would be no great natural obstacles between them and Budapest. The early winter in the Balkans with the limited means of communication available would present the most difficulty and one which could not be overcome before spring.

With the defection of Bulgaria it would be necessary for hard-pressed Austria to throw an army across her southern frontier, thus making another inroad upon her waning man power. The bulk of her forces is facing the eager Italian army along the Piave and in the mountain region.

Emperor William already has called upon Emperor Charles for help on the western front and Austro-Hungarian divisions are fighting beside the Germans against the steadily advancing British, French and Americans. Italy still has large reservoirs of men and any weakening of the Austrian front to send forces to the other frontier of the empire probably would be the signal for a general attack to recover not only the invaded Italian territory, but the "lost provinces" as well.

With Bulgaria evidently fallen by the wayside, with Turkey staggering and with Austria a welter of internal discord and dissent, the shaken armies of Emperor William are grudgingly falling back upon their own frontiers before the irresistible blows of Marshal Foch's British, French and American troops. The French and Americans plunged forward again between Rheims and Verdun, where the British attacked on a wide front in the Cambrai sector. Between them already have taken more than 30,000 prisoners and many guns of all calibers.

ARMIES BEATEN, BULGARIA OFFERS TO DISCUSS PEACE

London, September 27.—Premier Malinoff of Bulgaria has made an offer of an armistice to the allies, according to a Berlin message transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen. The message states that the premier's offer was made without the support of other members of the cabinet or of King Ferdinand.

The Berlin message says that Malinoff's offer has created great dissatisfaction in Bulgaria, and that strong military measures have been taken to support the Bulgarian front.

According to statements from Sofia by way of Jassy, it is added, a counter movement against the action of the premier has already been set on foot. (This would seem to indicate that a revolution is in progress in Bulgaria.)

ARMISTICE REQUEST MADE TO BRITAIN.

London, September 27.—The British government today received from an official authorized source an application from Bulgaria for an armistice.

The application is regarded as a serious movement and contrary to the report from German sources of the armistice move there is no suggestion that it is the action of Premier Malinoff on his own initiative. The request, which is addressed to the allies, is for an armistice for the discussion of peace.

In these circumstances any official view of the matter is not forthcoming but the view was expressed in well-informed quarters that any peace with Bulgaria would have a prodigious effect, and, in connection with what is happening in Palestine ,would have a profound effect on Turkey.

It would free the entire Saloniki army and in certain eventualities which concern Turkey would free the Mesopotamia and Palestine forces. It also would leave the way open to the Black sea, for it is regarded that the opening of such would be an essential sential condition for peace with Bulgaria. Moreover, it would block the chief German route to the east.

From the purely military viewpoint the granting of an armistice to Bulgaria it is considered would be such a great advantage to her that it could not be granted without severe conditions, such as possibly the evacuation of Serbia.

Foreign Secretary Balfour and Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer, have gone for a conference with Premier Lloyd-George regarding Bulgaria's request for an armistice.

DELEGATES SENT BY KING FERDINAND.

Paris, September 27.—General Franchet d'Esperey, commanding the allied armies in Macedonia, has telegraphed to the French government that a high Bulgarian officer has presented himself in behalf of General Torodow, commanding the Bulgarian army, asking the suspension of arms for forty-eight hours to permit the arrival of two authorized delegates from the Bulgarian government.

The minister of finance, Liaptcheff, and General Loukoff, commanding the Bulgarian second army, are on their way to the French headquarters with the assent of King Ferdinand to arrange the conditions of the armistice and eventually the terms of peace.

The French commander reports that the Bulgarian request reached him through an intermediary, the general commanding the British army in the east, forming a part of the allied command. General d'Esperey's reply, therefore, asked the Bulgarian delegates to present themselves to the British lines.

General d'Esperey says that as the Bulgarian request might be a military ruse to allow the regrouping of forces and the arrival of reinforcements, he made a reply declining to grant an armistice, but promising to receive duly qualified government delegates.

The text of the French commander's reply to a letter brought by the Bulgarian officer said:

"My response, that I send through the Bulgarian officer bearing the letter in question, cannot be, by reason of the military situation, other than the following:

"I can accord neither an armistice nor a suspension of hostilities tending to interrupt the operations in course. On the other hand, I will receive with all due courtesy the delegates, duly qualified, of the royal Bulgarian government, to which your excellency alludes in the letter. These delegates to present themselves in the British lines, accompanied by a parliamentaire.

(Signed "FRANCHET d'ESPEREY."

It is understood that no instructions regarding the Bulgarian application for an armistice will be given the military commanders in Macedonia until there is opportunity for consultation between France, Great Britain, the United States, Italy and the other allies, and in the meantime the military operations will continue.

GERMANY STIRRED BY BULGAR MOVE.

London, September 27.—Germany intends to send a violent protest to Bulgaria against Premier Malinoff's request for an armistice, according to Berlin reports received in Amsterdam and forward by the Exchange Telegraph company.

The Berlin dispatch says that the premier's act "is a single-handed move without the consent of King Ferdinand." Germany demands that Malinoff be dismissed immediately and court-martialed for high treason.

It is believed that the premier's act was the result of Germany's refusal to send sufficient reinforcements to Bulgaria. The situation in Bulgaria is causing extreme excitement in Germany.

BRITISH CAPTURE BULGARIAN CITY OF STRUMNITSA

London, September 27.—The British forces on the Macedonian front have captured the Bulgarian city of Strumnitsa.

Announcement of the capture was officially made this afternoon. The statement reads:

"British troops, preceded by yeomanry, entered Strumnitsa yesterday morning while Anglo-Greek troops stormed the heights of the Belaschnitza mountains north of Lake Doiran. The British have taken more than 30 guns and much ammunition."

Washington, September 27.—Military men here say the capture of the Bulgarian city of Strumnitsa by allied forces on the Mecedonian front breaks the strongest link in the Bulgarian defenses and leaves no serious obstacle to the allied march into the country.

SERBS NEAR BULGAR BORDER.

London, September 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Serbian troops were reported this afternoon to have captured Kochana, about fourteen miles from the Bulgarian border opposite Kustendil.

This is taken to show the rapid development of the allied envelopment movement by which it is hoped the Serbs by a quick thrust to the northeast will cut off the Bulgarians who are being hard pressed by the British on the Bulgarian front.

BRITISH SWEEPING TO GATES OF CAMBRAI

runs eastward from that village toward Marcoing.

"On their left Scottish and naval units of the Seventeenth corps, having stormed the line of the Canal du Nord east and southwest of Mouvres, were at first checked by the defenses of Graincourt. Outflanking this village from the north, they seized Anneux and carried forward the whole front of the corps.

"On our extreme right American detachments captured a series of trenches and fortified farms forming the outer defenses of the main Hindenburg system southwest of Lecatelet.

"The village of Graincourt was captured and the advance continued to Cantaing and Fontaine Notre Dame. In the left center the Canadian corps, under General Currie, attacking with the first, third and fourth divisions, forced a passage of the Canal Du Nord and captured the village of Sains-Lez-Marquion and Bourlon with the wooded heights of Bourlon hill.

"Substantial progress has been made toward Raillencourt and Haynecourt.

"Our deep advance astride the Arras-Cambrai road was greatly assisted by the close co-operation of the 22d corps, under General Godley, south and north of the Sensee and Scarpe rivers.

"The 56th London division of this corps crossed the Canal du Nord, and, attacking northwards, has captured Cauchy, Lestree and Sauchy-Caucy.

"North of the Scarpe on the extreme left English and Scottish troops completed the capture of Arleux-en-Gohelle and the German trench system in the vicinity of that villafe.

"Perfect co-operation between the commanders of neighboring units and formations; between infantry, artillery, tanks and aircraft, together with the gallantry and resource of all the ranks have again enabled us to achieve complete success at relatively small cost. Several thousand prisoners and many guns have been captured."

The report from Field Marshal Haig tonight gives the first intimation received here that American troops were operating in the St. Quentin sector. At the beginning of the offensive, however, American troops were brigaded with British around Arras, but have not been mentioned in the fighting since then.

8,000 PRISONERS AND OVER 100 GUNS FOR THE AMERICANS

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, September 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The number of prisoners thus far captured by the Americans in their offensive is now placed at eight thousand, of whom 125 are officers. The captured material includes more than 100 guns, 12 of which are of heavy caliber, many trench mortars and hundreds of machine guns.

General Pershing's troops, in their drive between the Muse and the Argonne forest made a great haul of German artillery in the region of Dannevoux. The Americans' capture included four big 210-millimeter guns and eight 150-millimeter pieces and 15 trench mortars, 10 field guns and 34 machine guns.

West of Dannevoux the Americans captured twelve 77s, which are now being used against the Germans, a large amount of ammunition also having been captured.

OVER 10,000 GERMANS HAVE BEEN TAKEN BY FRENCH TROOPS

Paris, September 27.—The French troops in the battle line east of Rheims made further advances today and in the two days' battle have taken more than ten thousand prisoners and considerable war material, according to the official communication tonight. The total advance by the French has been about five miles at certain points.

"We broke the enemy resistance on the whole battle front," said the statement. "On the right we advanced our lines a kilometer capturing Bois de l'Echelle and Cernay. We freed the railway from Challerange for four kilometers and pressed more than two kilometers northward."

"General Gouraud's army continued to day splendidly to assault the formidable enemy positions in Champagne. Clinging to the inextricable maize of trenches, redoubts and labyrinths in which they were unearthed, the Germans tried to oppose our advance, but it was in vain. They are throwing in their reserve divisions one after the other, but our troops with admirable tenacity are carrying them one after another, all the redoubts bristling with machine guns. Our advance continues methodically everywhere. We are reaching the line of the hill tops."

GERMANS ADMIT THEY "RETIRED" BEFORE ALLIES

Berlin, September 27.—(Via London.) German troops on the front on both sides of the Argonne retired to their lines of defense before the Franco-American attack Thursday, according to the official statement from German general headquarters today.

It is declared that the "great Franco-American attempt to break through" failed on the first day of the battle owing to the tenacity of the German troops. It is added that fresh battles are imminent.

Between the Argonne and the Meuse (the American front) the Germans were forced back from their front fighting lines as far as Montblainville and as far as the bend in the Meuse northeast of Montfaucon.

The statement reads:

"In Champagne, between the heights west of the Suippe and the Aisne as well as northwest of Verdun, between the Argonne and the River Meuse, the Franco-Americans yesterday launched strong attacks. The artillery battle extended itself beyond the heights west of the Suippe toward the west as far as Rheims and across the Meuse toward the east as far as the Moselle.

"Partial attacks followed. They were repulsed in violent fighting, during which the Austro-Hungarian troops distinguished themselves east of the Meuse.

"On the main attacking fronts a tremendous artillery fire preceded the entry of the infantry into the battle. West of the Aisne and east of the Argonne the Franco-Americans advanced against our positions, employing numerous tanks. In accordance with orders our advanced posts retreated, fighting to the lines allotted them.

"At Tahure and Ripont the enemy succeeded during attacks which continued until evening in advancing beyond our foremost fighting lines as far as the heights northwest of Tahure and as far as Fontaine-en-Dormois. Here our reserves held the enemy to a local break-through.

"Between the Argonne and the Meuse the enemy advanced beyond our foremost fighting lines as far as Montblainville and Montfaucon and as far as the bend of the Meuse northeast of Montfaucon. Here our reserves brought him to a standstill.

"The enemy was able at some points to reach our infantry and foremost artillery lines. The great Franco-American attempt to break through, undertaken with far-reaching aims, failed only on the first day of the battle owing to the tenacity of our troops. Fresh battles are imminent."

Between the roads from Arras and Peronne towards Cambrai and against the Siegfried front to the west of Le Catelet, there have been powerful English and American attacks, with large forces, according to the German official statement issued tonight.

In the Champagne as well as between the Argonne and the Meuse there were renewed vigorous attacks by the French and Americans.

Do You Need Glasses?

"You will find that all business houses that have grown from little to big have, somewhere or other, given their customers a share of their profits, until they became so large that they did not need the customer who looks for savings in price, and then such houses talk about their superior service and scientific methods of accounting."

We are not so large that we do not need the business of the customer who desires to economize in the cost of glasses. We do need it, and we propose to deserve it by furnishing you glasses a little better, and at a price a little smaller for the quality than you will find elsewhere.

Our service is good, of course, but you are chiefly interested in the quality of the glasses you get, and the cost.

Bring us the oculist's prescription, or see us for new lenses or frames. You will be glad you came.

SEVEN HOUSES FIRED; "FIREBUG" IS SOUGHT

Police and city detectives Friday morning began a rigid investigation of seven fires within the last two nights, in which seven empty houses have either been destroyed or badly damaged. It is the belief of police and fire officials that the fires are of incendiary origin, and that it is the work of a person who has fire mania. Early Friday morning a vacant house at 83 Armstrong street was completely destroyed. Half an hour later a vacant house was discovered on fire at 719 South Pryor street, and soon afterwards an empty house at 570 Martin street was discovered on fire. Early Thursday morning three vacant negro houses were destroyed in different sections of the city.

GREAT SERVICE FLAG WILL BE UNFURLED

Monday, October 14, Will Be Patriotic Day at Southeastern Fair.

From the standpoint of patriotic interest, Monday, October 14, at the Southeastern fair will be the most impressive event of the whole week.

Secretary Striplin has arranged for a monster service flag—to be unfurled with fitting ceremonies—showing the number of men that Georgia has contributed to the army and navy. It is 30 feet by 60 in size; the figures will be in stars of blue on a white field bordered with red.

Governor Dorsey and his staff, officers and men from Camps Gordon, Jessup and Fort McPherson will be invited; representatives of the English, Greek, Italian and French clubs, with the Girls' Patriotic league and War Camp Community Service members will take part in the unfurling.

The management of the Southeastern fair is making an especial effort to work up the Monday attendance to what it should be. In other cities where they have a great fair the people become accustomed to making a special effort to beat each year's opening day record. It is, in fact, regarded as the kind of an example they should set to out-of-town people, and, in the judgment of the executive committee of the Southeastern fair, Atlanta should get the habit, since the amusement and entertainment program is better, if anything, Monday than it is Saturday. The fair is also complete except for an exhibit which may be delayed by the railways, but which would never be missed if it did not show up.

The Girls' Patriotic league have undertaken to sell 20,000 tickets for opening day, which will give them a handsome sum of money for their war work and the fair management feel sure that they are going to sell the entire amount which is the same as the number of keys sold on the opening day in 1916.

CHILE ORDERS SEIZURE OF ALL GERMAN SHIPS

Santiago, Chile, September 27.—The Chilean government has ordered the naval authorities to occupy with armed forces all the interned German ships in Chilean harbors.

Crews of German ships self-interned in Chilean ports recently attempted to damage or sink the vessels. On September 5 the Chilean government took over the ships to prevent further damage by the crews. Since that time there has been much agitation in Chilean political circles as to whether the government should not seize the German steamers.

Since shortly after the beginning of the war Chile had been negotiating with Germany for the use of the steamers. Germany agreed to give Chile three ships, but on September 13 it was reported that the Chilean government had broken off negotiations concerning the rental of the interned vessels.

$125,497,960 MORE ASKED FOR THE NAVY

Washington, September 27.—Congress was asked today by the navy department for an additional appropriation of $125,497,960 for expenses during the remainder of the 1919 fiscal year. The request included $1,490,000 for temporary buildings in Washington.

Construction of training camps and providing for their equipment, calling for $28,560,800, was the largest item of the estimates. Other estimates, new ship batteries, $26,529,464; munition, $24,021,000; ordnance and supplies, $11,603,124; outfits for apprentice seamen, $15,000,000.

A request also was made for $5,200,000 for establishing medical supply depots at Brooklyn and Mare Island, Cal.

Prisoner Shoots Officer.

Special Officer L. Stipes, employed by the Southern Express company, who resides at 69 Hurt street, is at a local hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the right arm inflicted by a negro boy, Andrew Bankston, whom he had under arrest on the charge of stealing packages from the Express company. In arresting the negro Friday morning the officer had only put one handcuff on him and while taking him to the police station the negro snatched the pistol from the officer's pocket with the other hand and shot him through the right arm. The negro made good his escape with the handcuffs and had not been located late last night.

Boy Injured by Truck.

William Brown, a negro boy 12 years old, was run down and fatally injured by an automobile truck at the corner of Ivy street and Edgewood avenue Friday afternoon, and died about 7 o'clock at the Grady hospital. He lived at 516 West Fair street, and was riding a bicycle down Edgewood avenue, together with several other boys, when the slippery street caused him to fall directly in front of the swiftly moving truck. Harvey Reed, the driver, stated to the police authorities that the truck threw the boy about 10 feet, and that the accident was unavoidable.

Negro Slain; Woman Held.

Last night a negro woman, who gave her name as Clifford Gray, and her age as 30 years, walked into the police station and surrendered herself to the authorities, saying she had killed a man, accidentally. In the afternoon the police had found a negro man dead in her house, which is on Chattahoochee avenue, near the Seaboard shops, but the woman was not about and the police had thought it a probable suicide. According to the negro woman, who said she came to confess because she had begun to be afraid, the man, Augustus Mitchell, was at her home and she took a gun down from the wall for him to see. In some way the trigger slipped and Mitchell was shot in the neck. She was detained at the Fulton county Tower for further investigation.

Splendid Program To Mark Opening Of Student Corps

Governor Dorsey, General William H. Sage, Mayor Asa Candler and Others Will Be Present at Georgia Tech Exercises.

Tuesday, October 1, will mark the opening of the students' army training corps in 500 American colleges and universities, and many thousand students of college grade will be inducted into the army through the classes that will be inaugurated for the purpose of securing officer material and training men as specialists and technicians, which are now so badly needed in the various departments of the military establishment.

More than 150,000 students will join the S. A. T. C. in the various colleges and universities of the country, a large number of young men being inducted into the service through the Georgia Tech, Emory university, Oglethorpe, Atlanta university, Atlanta Dental college and the University of Georgia, located in Atlanta.

The men accepted for the students' army training corps are divided into two sections, known as A and B. Section A men are known as collegiate men, while Section B students are taken from the various local boards, and are known as vocational men.

Fine Program Arranged.

Georgia Tech, which will take care of the largest number of students entering the S. A. T. C. in this state will mark the opening of the training school with elaborate exercises, and the induction of more than a thousand students into the new branch of the army service will be the occasion for carrying out a most impressive program.

Promptly at noon on Tuesday, October 1, the students of Georgia Tech will be assembled on the college campus. This assemblage will be simultaneous with that of other colleges and universities taking part in the new plan for training military men from the student bodies. Following the gathering of the students there will be the ceremony of raising the emblem of the country, which will be done to the accompaniment of the band, which will play "The Star-Spangled Banner." The oath of allegiance will then be administered to the men, and the commanding officer will read the orders for the day. Opportunity will be afforded those who wish to make pictures of the historical occasion, and motion pictures will be permitted, recording the event.

The exercises will be followed by brief addresses, and Governor Hugh Dorsey, General William H. Sage, Mayor Asa G. Candler, Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Tech, and others are expected to speak.

Will Present Flag.

A huge flag, which, it is understood, will be presented by the Tech sponsors, will be raised over the campus at the close of the addresses, and this emblem will be received on behalf of the training corps by Major Radcliffe Heermance, of the United States infantry.

Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, who is in charge of the arrangements for the day outside of the military program, is working to make the day a huge success, and the parents and friends of students of the training corps are cordially invited to be present. War workers, canteen workers and members of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are also urged to attend the exercises.

A parade will be held on Grant Field at 10:30 a. m. before the ceremonies have been completed, in which the 300 students who have been at Tech since August will take part. These students will also take part in the general Liberty Loan parade Tuesday morning.

After the close of the ceremony a general reception will be given, to which all Tech men will be invited.

WOUNDED ATLANTAN WILL RETURN HOME

After being an invalid for two months and a half, First Lieutenant Lawrence Stallings, of the United States marine corps, is soon to return to Atlanta, since it will be impossible for him to get in the fight again.

Lieutenant Stallings was wounded by a machine gun and only narrowly escaped death itself as he crawled back to his lines under shellfire. He was in fighting around Chateau-Thierry and speaks in highest terms of the bravery and daring of the Americans during that engagement, and especially of those in his own platoon.

Lawrence Stallings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Stallings, and has numerous friends here. He was connected with The Atlanta Journal before going into service.

CHATTOOGA COUNTY MARINE DIES OVER THERE

Lyerly, Ga., September 7.—(Special.) R. H. Garner, of Chelsea, Ga., this county, has received a message from the war department announcing that his nephew, Private John T. Montgomery, of the Marine corps, died August 5 of wounds received in action on June 6. First reports from the wounded boy were so encouraging that the boy's relatives hoped he would soon come home on furlough.

Private Montgomery is the second Chattooga county boy to pay the supreme sacrifice for his country. Private Wylie V. McCauley was the first Chattooga boy to be killed overseas. Two others, Privates Sonnie Floyd and Jesse Eller, have been wounded, the former severely and the latter wounded, degree undetermined, according to the department's messages.

GREAT OLD REMEDY FOR SKIN DISEASES

S. S. S. Clears Skin of Eruptions. Drives Poison From the System.

Get it fixed in your mind that skin eruptions, Scrofula, Eczema, burning, itching skin, and all skin diseases are due entirely to impure and infected blood. If the trouble was on the outside of the skin, by simply washing and keeping it clean you could obtain relief—not even ointments, lotions, and salves would be necessary. Agree with us in this belief, and your trouble can be relieved—you can be entirely restored to health. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable treatment that you can secure from your own druggist—it is a blood tonic that will purify your blood and cause a most decided abatement of your trouble, and finally make you entirely well. Fifty years ago S. S. S. was discovered and given to suffering mankind. During this period it has proven its remarkable curative properties as a blood purifier and tonic, and has relieved thousands of cases of disease caused by poor or impure blood, and chronic or inherited blood diseases. You can be relieved, but you must take S. S. S. Take it if only pimples appear, for they denote bad blood, and may be followed by the sufferings from torturing skin eruptions. Therefore be sure. Don't take chances, don't use lotions. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. If yours is a special case, write for expert medical advice. VOTE IS ANNOUNCED IN SENATORIAL RACE

Official Figures in Primary of September 11 Given Out by Secretary Hiram Gardner Friday.

Official figures in the race for the United States senate to take the place now held by Senator Thomas W. Hardwick, were announced yesterday in a telegram sent to The Constitution by Hiram L. Gardner, secretary of the state democratic executive committee.

The tabulation shows that William J. Harris, nominee of the party, received 71,723 votes in the primary, with a county unit vote of 282; Congressman William Schley Howard came second with 42,035 popular votes, and 52 county units; Senator Thomas W. Hardwick third, with 39,952 popular votes, and 44 county units; Emmett Shaw fourth, with 2,861, and 2 county units, and John R. Cooper last, with 1,918 popular votes, and no county units.

This official tabulation will be presented to the state democratic executive convention at its meeting in Macon on October 3.

RAIN IS PROBABLE AND COOLER TODAY, SAYS FORECASTER

There will probably be rain with cooler weather in Atlanta and vicinity today, according to the report from the united States weather bureau. Georgia—Rain Saturday and probably Sunday, according to the report from the Washington office.

A distinct storm is central in the middle gulf with the lowest atmospheric pressure about 29.8 inches at Burrwood at the mouth of the Mississippi river. It is accompanied by cloudy, threatening weather over the entire cotton belt and rain at a large number of stations from Texas to North Carolina, but no rain has yet fallen in Florida. The storm will move eastward during Friday and pass away into the Atlantic east of Florida on Saturday.

In the entire remaining portions of the United States the weather is fair and somewhat cooler. Light frosts were reported at Pittsburg, Toledo, Chicago and Kansas City. The lowest temperatures were just under 40 degrees, in Iowa and the Dakotas. St. Louis reported 46 degrees at 7 a. m.; Atlanta 62 degrees and Jacksonville 72 degrees.

Conditions are favorable for clearing weather on Saturday, becoming somewhat colder, but not to the frost line.

War Work Predominates In Flow of Business Says Bradstreet's

New York, September 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Government work expands at the expense of non-essential enterprise, and as goods for ordinary trading tend to become scarcer, buyers in the prosperous crop-yielding zones are anxious to get down orders. In the big eastern centers, however, where taxes, subscriptions to the Liberty Bonds, high wages for labor and the prospective withdrawal of large numbers for militant efforts are factors, buying is conservative. Notwithstanding all reservations, the flow of business is considerably stronger than the ebb, war work, of course, predominating.

Non-essential lines reflect further curtailment, and, while buying of holiday gifts has started, the tendency is to eschew luxuries, though here and there new-found wealth has brought about some squandering.

AUGUSTA CORPORAL DIES FROM WOUNDS

Augusta, Ga., September 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Sarah Jordan, 1326 Meyers street, this city, received a telegram yesterday from the war department informing her that her son, Corporal Shepard Jordan, had died on August 29, from wounds received in action on the French front. He belonged to Company D, 382d infantry, 82d division.

Corporal Jordan left Augusta for Camp Gordon on April 9. He remained at Atlanta for fourteen days, when he was transferred to Camp Upton, from which point he sailed for France. He has been in constant communication with his home. The last letter received from him was dated August 26, three days before he is reported to have died. At that time he informed his mother that he was in a French hospital and was to undergo an operation in a day or so, for some trouble with his tonsils. For this reason, the family have inferred that there may be a mistake—at least as to dates—and they are in telegraphic correspondence with the department at Washington to have the matter straightened out.

Corporal Jordan was 24 years of age. He is survived by his father and mother and three brothers and two sisters. At the time he left to enter the war service he was in the employ of the Georgia railroad. He was a young man of sterling worth and was held in the highest regard by his employers and by a large circle of devoted friends.

SOME FEW EXCEPTIONS ON CONSTRUCTION WORK

Washington, September 27. — Exceptions to the recent ruling of the war industries board providing that no construction work should be started during the war without permits, were announced today by Chairman Baruch.

The exceptions include farm buildings, costing less than $1,000; repairs or extensions of existing buildings costing less than $2,500, and projects undertaken by or under contract for the war or navy departments, shipping board, emergency fleet corporation, bureau of industrial housing and transportation, railroad administration, or United States highway council.

BARRICADED IN ROOM, HE FOUGHT TILL KILLED

Dallas, Texas, September 27.—Barricaded in a narrow room in the heart of the business district, a man identified as Nash Davis, of Killeen, fought to the death with a score of policemen here today. Refusing to surrender, the man received more than a hundred shots before he fell headlong, according to the police.

The trouble started when Patrolman Daniel stopped the man and asked him why he was loitering. The reply came with a terrific blow, felling the officer. Then, turning to a large crowd, he defied anyone to come near him, escaped to a rooming house, and there engaged in the death fight with police reserves.

CITY ELECTRICIANS WILL HOLD MEET IN CHICAGO IN 1919

The International Association of Municipal Electricians concluded their twenty-third annual convention on Friday morning. Chicago was chosen by the members as the next meeting place.

A number of technical addresses featured the morning session. B. S. Stewart, of the Peerless Insulated Wire and Cable company, New York, spoke upon "Development, Cause and Location of Trouble in Rubber Insulation;" Jacob Grimm, superintendent of police signal system, Buffalo, N. Y., delivered a paper upon "Police, Call, Report and Signal Systems;" John Barry, superintendent of fire alarm, Indianapolis, Ind., spoke on "Standard Specifications for Underground Fire Alarm and Police Signal Cable;" A. R. Small, vice president Underwriters' laboratories, Chicago, Ill., took for his subject "Underwriters' Laboratory Test as Applied to Electrical Material in War Times."

On Friday afternoon the visitors were taken on a tour of Camp Gordon, stopping on the way at the substation of the Georgia Railway and Power company on North Boulevard.

RAILWAY CLERKS WILL HOLD CONVENTION HERE

The first meeting of the Southeastern Federation of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks including the Stone Mountain lodge, No. 326, and the Atlanta lodge, No. 552, will be held in Atlanta on Saturday and Sunday. The meeting will be called to order by W. P. Allison, president of the Stone Mountain lodge, No. 326.

An invocation will be said by Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, and addresses of welcome will be made by Mayor-elect J. L. Key, on behalf of the city and C. F. Jackson, of the Brotherhood of Railway conductors. The response will be made by Grand President J. J. Forrester, of Washington.

The convention will then be turned over to President H. J. Osborn, for a business session. The meeting will adjourn at 1:30 p. m. and lunch will be served for delegates and officers at the Kimball house.

At 3:30 p. m. the convention will reassemble for business, and the evening session, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, will be given over to entertainment.

At 10:30 Sunady morning all unfinished business will be taken up and completed.

BROWN URGES FARMERS TO ORDER FERTILIZERS

J. J. Brown, state commissioner of agriculture, suggested Friday that farmers should figure immediately the amount of fertilizer they need for next year's crop and place orders at once.

"Information has been received from Assistant Secretary of Agriculture W. W. Mein, in Washington, who is in charge of licensing the fertilizer concerns under the food control act, that it is important to combine orders in communities so as to make up car lots, thus conserving to the utmost the freight car space," said Br. Mrown.

"Transportation difficulties make it necessary that freight cars be loaded to their rated capacity, so farmers in each community should make their fertilizer arrangements so that shipments may be made jointly. It is important that this action be taken as soon as possible, so that the orders may be placed immediately with the fertilizer companies.

"The purpose of this suggestion is to obviate entirely, if possible, a repetition of experiences last spring, when many farmers failed to receive their mixed fertilizers and phosphates until after planting time."

WATSON LOSES FINAL CONTEST OF ELECTION

Macon, Ga., September 27.—Thomas E. Watson lost his third and final contest in charges of fraud brought against Congressman Carl Vinson in connection with the recent congressional primary in the tenth district, the Taliaferro executive committee voting unanimously today that the charges were not sustained. Watson's lawyers have announced that they will appeal each of the contests in Taliaferro, Columbia and Wilkinson counties.

GRENADE EXPLODES, SOLDIER'S HAND HURT

Augusta, Ga., September 27.—(Special.)—A report from Camp Hancock last night was to the effect that Private Jefferson E. Cheek, Twenty-ninth company, Main Training depot (of Lavonia, Ga.,) had suffered a frightful injury to his head, the result of the unexpected explosion of a hand grenade. He is at the base hospital.

Augustan Wounded.

Augusta, Ga., September 27.—(Special.)—His mother last night received a cablegram informing her that Captain Roy Cooper had been wounded in action in France. The cablegram came from Lieutenant Robert Walton, of Captain Cooper's company. The wound is described as a slight one.

Captain Cooper won his commission at the first officers' training camp at Fort McPherson. He is a Richmond academy boy. After his graduation there he became a member of the faculty and was one of the first four men who left that teacher staff to qualify for service in the war. He is one of the most popular and one of the best esteemed young men of Augusta. Further information as to his hurts will be awaited in Augusta with the keenest anxiety.

GO TO COLLEGE INSTEAD OF CAMP

Men between eighteen and forty-five with twelve high school units may enter Meridian College, Meridian, Miss., conditioned, and enter the S. A. T. C., receive military training, the Government paying board, tuition and $30.00 per month and uniforms. Wire for reservation. Meridian College, Meridian, Miss.—(adv.)

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A1. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active and your body capable of hard work.

Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.—(adv.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY AT BAPTIST TABERNACLE

Sunday school rally and Promotion day will be observed Sunday at the Baptist tabernacle, and a splendid program has been arranged for the occasion, which is to be made one of the most interesting of the entire year. The exercises will take place in the main auditorium, beginning at 9:30, with all classes present.

At 11 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. John W. Ham, will preach on the subject, "Liberty Bonds and Judicial and Experimental Sanctification."

At the evening service, which begins at 7:45, a special musical program has been arranged by Director W. Hugh Rowe. The subject of the sermon will be, "Five Famous Characters," and as a prelude, the pastor will talk on "Asleep at the Switch, or the Need of an Awakening in the Three Organizations, Masonic, Junior Order and Evangelical."

COMING MONDAY "BERLIN VIA AMERICA" CRITERION THEATER

SOCIETY

Miss Marjorie Wilkes Goes to Camp Upton.

Miss Marjorie Wilkes, after making a brilliant record as librarian at Red Cross Base hospital at Camp Gordon, has been transferred to Camp Upton, on Long Island, N. Y., as librarian at that post.

Miss Wilkes left for her new duties last night.

She is the daughter of Colonel Samuel Wilkes, of Atlanta, and is one of Atlanta's brightest and most beloved young women.

Luncheon at Knollwood.

Mrs. W. H. Kiser entertained at luncheon at Knollwood, her home, on Pace's Ferry road, in compliment to her son, Lieutenant William H. Kiser, and a group of his officer friends who, with him, spent yesterday in the city on their way from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., to Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisiana, where they have been ordered to report for duty.

The centerpiece of the pretty table was a basket of handsome dahlias in their various rich shades. Covers were laid for twenty.

Mandolin-Guitar Club.

The committee in charge of the organization of the Community Mandolin and Guitar club wish to learn how many are interested in joining this club under the auspices of the W. C. C. S. and who will give their support to such an organization.

Every one interested in this club will speed up the organization by addressing the Community Mandolin and Guitar club, War Camp Community Service, Chamber of Commerce building, Atlanta, Ga.

Spectacular Pageant For Liberty Day.

One hundred and eighty college girls—the prettiest from several of the schools in and around Atlanta, will form one of the headliners on Liberty day in the Columbus pageant, to be presented by the women of Atlanta at the Southeastern fair. Eight hundred Indian men and maids in full regalia will provide another spectacular feature, probably not to be surpassed by any celebration in the country of what promises to be a feast day of patriotism.

At a meeting of the pageant committee Thursday, when these features were guaranteed, one hundred and fifty people were present, representing all the different organizations contributing to the presentation of the pageant, and delegates from all promised to do everything they were called upon to do.

A Patriotic Privilege.

Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, speaking for the Council of National Defense, called attention to the fact that the president had set apart October 12 as Liberty day, a day for universal patriotic observance; that those taking part in the pageant should, therefore, consider it a patriotic privilege, and that others should feel that they were not doing their patriotic duty unless they patronize it.

The pageant plan, she said, was already promoting the community spirit in Atlanta, and that it would set a precedent from which the city will always benefit.

The Red Men and Pocahontas lodge will furnish eight hundred Indians in full regalia for the "Landing of Columbus." Eighty young girls from Agnes Scott college were promised by Miss Scott, of the faculty, these to be trained in the dances of Grecian maidens by Miss Gooch. Woodberry school and Washington seminary will each furnish fifty, and from fifty to two hundred participants were guaranteed by each organization promoting the pageant.

Dinner-Dance at East Lake.

The regular week-end dinner-dance will be held this evening at East Lake Country club. Dinner will be served from 7:30 until 10 o'clock. Dancing will commence at 8 o'clock and will continue until 11:30, allowing the members plenty of time to get home so as not to violate the Sunday gasoline law. Those wishing reservations will please call the superintendent.

College Women to Meet.

The first fall meeting of the Atlanta branch of the Southern Association of College Women will be held at the home of Miss Harry Schlesinger, 375 West Peachtree street, Monday, September 30, at 3:30 p. m.

There will be no set program for the first meeting, the time to be taken up with a review of the past summer's work and with greeting of old and new members.

All graduates of standard southern and northern colleges are eligible for membership to the S. A. C. W. Relatives of soldiers at our camps are especially invited. For information, apply to Miss Laura Cooper, chairman of membership. Phone West 412.

Night Class in Dietetics.

The dietetics department, Mrs. Joseph N. Moody, chairman of the educational department, Atlanta chapter of the Red Cross, announces a night class in dietetics for the benefit of those who are otherwise engaged in the day and are desirous of taking this most important branch of work.

Mrs. Keen will be the teacher and the hours will be 6 to 8 o'clock or 7 to 9, dependent on the wishes of the class.

The class to be held at the Junior league, 90½ North Forsyth street, will begin as soon as registration is completed.

Those who expect to take the course may register at Red Cross houes, 258 Peachtree street, Junior league or phone Mrs. Moody, Ivy 5602.

Dances at Segadlo's.

A delightful event of Friday night was the dance given by members of the college set at Segadlo's. Mrs. Stephens Hook and Mrs. A. J. Poole chaperoned the event.

A tea-dance will be held this afternoon from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

All Saints' Choir.

An excellent musical program will be sung by All Saints' choir Sunday. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Evening service at 5 o'clock.

Soloists, Mrs. Nellie Nix Edwards, soprano; Mrs. Gertrude Holmgren Peterson, alto; Mr. Frank A. Cundell, tenor; Mr. Pierce E. Harrower, baritone; Mr. William E. Arnaud, organist and choir master. A vested chorus of men and women.

Officers' Dance.

The officers of the First Replacement regiment at Camp Gordon gave a delightful dance last night at the Capital City Country club.

Traver-Coggins.

Mr. Herman Coggins and Miss Mildred Traver were married at the Gordon Street Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Robert M. Stimson performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Coggins will make their home in this city.

At Ponce de Leon Baptist.

Special music has been arranged for the morning and evening services at Ponce de Leon Baptist church.

The choir includes Mrs. William E. Dow, soprano; Miss Rosa C. Powell, contralto; Howard Davis, tenor; John H. Mullin, bass.

Walter Peck Stanley, organist and choirmaster.

Miss Walker's House Party

Miss Louise Walker, of Monroe, motored home yesterday accompanied by Miss Edith McKenzie, of Montezuma; Lieutenant Whitman Dillon, of Coulmbus, Ohio, and Lieutenant David Suttle, of Chicago, who will be her guests for the week-end.

While in Atlanta Thursday they were the guests of Miss Walker's sister, Mrs. Paul Vose.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCrary entertained at dinner in their honor on Thursday evening at their apartment in the Ponce de Leon, and Mr. Willard McBurney entertained at the dance at the Capital City club.

Dance Postponed.

The dance which was to be given tonight at the Capital City club by the 12th Company, Central Officers' training school, of Camp Gordon, is postponed, because of the fact that the company is in quarantine.

Mrs. Wilson's Return.

Mrs. R. Wayne Wilson has returned home after a summer spent in Chicago and New York in the study of music. In Chicago she made a specialty of method and pedagogy with Mrs. Ethel Ellis Perfield, and she was a pupil in piano playing of Ethel Newcomb, the noted concert artist, at Whitney Point, N. Y. Miss Newcomb writes enthusiastically to Atlanta friends of Mrs. Wilson's playing and her powers as a critic.

Dance for Officers.

A tea-dance from 5 to 7, followed by buffet supper and an evening dance for army officers, will be given this evening at the Atlanta Women's club by the club committee, which is making these entertainments a weekly affair.

Mrs. Irving Thomas and the ladies of her committee invite the officers from all the camps. Cards of invitation have been sent to the young ladies who will be present.

Song Service at Trinity.

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the large chorus choir, assisted by soloists, will give an elaborate program of sacred music. All are cordially invited.

PROGRAM.

Organ prelude (Sheldon).
Voluntary, "O How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings" (West).
Anthem, "Not Ashamed of Christ" (Danks).
Organ solo.
Anthem, "While the Earth Remaineth" (Tours).
Tedeum, "Laudemus" (Jordan).
Anthem, "Still, Still With Thee" (Foote).
Charles A. Sheldon, the organist, will conduct the music.

Day-Crane.

The many friends of Lieutenant J. Sidney Crane, formerly of Atlanta, will be interested to know of his marriage at the home of Mrs. J. M. Ramseur, City Point, Va., September 4, 1918, by the Rev. Preston Peyton, to Miss Clarice L. Day, of Detroit, Mich. Lieutenant Crane is now at Camp Lee, Petersburg, Virginia.

Machinist Shoots Mule.

Robert Palmer, a machinist, 20 years old, Friday afternoon shot and instantly killed a mule standing fully a 100 yards away in the rear of a garage operated by E. A. Rutledge, at the corner of Whitehall and Garnett streets. He claims the weapon accidentally discharged. He was arrested by Officers Wood and Shumate and taken to the stationhouse, where he is held under a $200 bond. According to Palmer, he was examining the gun in the rear of the store, and when he threw open the magazine the cartridge exploded. The mule was owned by Jim Cox, a drayman, who lives in the rear of 55 Garnett street, and was valued at $175.

Gripping Picture Of War Is Coming To the Criterion

In "Berlin via America" You See Our Boys Go "Over the Top" and Drive the Germans Back.

"I want to see a real 'Over-the-top-and-after-the-Hun' photoplay!"

You've said that time and again. And here's your chance. For The Constitution is bringing to the Criterion next week "Berlin via America"—a living, breathing, something-doing-every-second picture of the great war.

Half a hundred years ago Sherman said that war was hell. And he was right about it then. But conditions have changed. And today on the battlefields of France and Flanders, carpeted with pain and desolation, they are staging a mighty spectacle tha surpasses anything Sherman ever imagined.

"Berlin via America," indorsed by a score of authorities, including the United States government, brings to you a story grim, graphic, gripping. Just the things you've long wanted to know are presented before your very eyes. You see our boys go "over the top" and bear down upon the hosts of the Hun. You see a battle to the death, fought upon No Man's Land. You see the Americans—our own brave khaki-clad youths, gaining foot after foot upon the German ranks. A sudden spurt of smoke from an American gun and a German headquarters building is utterly demolished. And the Americans continue, sweeping all before them on their journey to Berlin.

That's the sort of a picture that awaits you in "Berlin via America.' And every inch of the film is brand-new. "Berlin via America" is not a series of "made-over" weeklies, pictures of marching lads and waving flags. It's an up-and-doing-action-all - the - time sort of a play.

Francis Ford, as Phil Kelly, the secret service man, who dons a German uniform and plays the role of traitor to his country in order to gain information of incalculable benefit to America, has never done better work than in this cinema creation. And you're just sure to fall in love with Edna Emerson, as Rose Lockley, the girl who believed in Phil when all the world branded him a coward and a slacker.

"Berlin via America" will begin a week's run at the Criterion on next Monday, under the auspices of The Constitution. It was chosen from a hundred or more war plays to aid the Four-Minute Men in putting over the story back of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Laundry Driver Disappears.

Relatives of W. S. Lanier, 25 years old, of 297 Highland avenue, Friday appealed to the police to help them in locating his whereabouts. He was employed as a driver of a laundry wagon, and nothing has been heard from him since last Monday, when he complained of feeling ill, and left his wagon in College Park.

THE NEW CALOMEL
A PERFECT SUCCESS

Calotabs, the newly perfected calomel, is absolutely purified from all of the unpleasant, sickening and dangerous qualities of the old-style calomel. The new Calotabs are rapidly taking the place of the old-style calomel tablets, as they are much more effective as a liver cleanser and system purifier, yet are entirely free from all objectionable qualities.

The new Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages; price thirty-five cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees them.—(adv.)

WOMEN OF ATLANTA TO DIRECT SECOND LOAN DRIVE WEEK

The women of Atlanta have had the second week of the Liberty Loan drive, which commences October 7 and lasts through October 12, turned over to them for their intensive campaign.

They will give up the observance of "Woman's Work day," designated as Woman's War Work day by Secretary McAdoo.

This was decided at a conference which took place yesterday between Forrest Adair, chairman of the Atlanta men's committee, and Mrs. T. T. Stevens, chairman of the Atlanta woman's committee, and Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the woman's Liberty Loan committee in Georgia.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick arrived in the city early in the afternoon with enthusiastic accounts of the organization of the women of the state to put over their part of the fourth Liberty Loan drive.

In many counties, Mrs. Fitzpatrick reports, the men and women's committees are working out the plan as equal partners, an equal number on each committee and the committees organized to work together.

"It is going to be a hard pull," said Mrs. Fitzpatrick, "but I have made what the men call in politics, a kind of a straw ballot survey, and I am safe in saying the women of Georgia are going to do better even than they did in the third drive. They are organized in every county, and no woman is so far away she will not be reached with the message of her obligation."

"We are ready to go to work," said Mrs. Stevens, "and our organization is complete. We feel confident of successful accomplishment."

Rubber tree tapping by a series of small borers set in a circle, the invention of an English expert in the Belgian Congo, has proven a more productive method than the customary vertical incision syatem.

AFTER EFFECTS OF MEASLES

Mother, Who Lives in Tennessee Mountains Where Black-Draught Is Relied On in Many Troubles, Says It Made Her Boy Sound and Well.

Coal Creek, Tenn.—Up in the mountains, quite some distance from town, lives Mrs. U. S. Fritts, who relates her experience with Thedford's Black-Draught as follows:

"My little boy, James, took sick with diarrhoea, about five years ago, and was badly swollen. He had the measles and this was, no doubt, an after-effect. I made him well by giving him Thedford's Black-Draught. I gave it to him three times a day for a month. I firmly believe it saved his life.

We always keep Black-Draught in our house. It is our doctor. Always easy to get and prompt in giving relief.

A small pinch of Black-Draught after each meal and at bed time for headache, stomach and liver trouble, and we are well the next morning.

It certainly works wonders sometimes and saves no end of trouble, relieves pain, and there is no need for another doctor.

I have recommended Black-Draught to all my neighbors and will continue to recommend it."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a pure, vegetable herb liver medicine, acting gently, yet promptly, on liver and bowels.

Thousands of people, everywhere, have found it to relieve constipation, indigestion, biliousness and many similar disorders.

Try Black-Draught. Your druggist sells it.—(adv.)

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any community there is a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. Not only is she remiscent of her own experience, but it was through her recommendation that so many expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy.

Mother's Friend is an external application prepared especially for expectant mothers after the formula of a noted family physician. It certainly has a wonderful effect in relieving tension brought about by expanding muscles, and is a most grateful encouragement to the woman awaiting motherhood.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive. When baby arrives they expand easily, and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Strain upon the nerves and ligaments is lessened and in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and happy anticipation.

Mother's Friend enables the mother to preserve her health and natural grace and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided the pain and suffering which more often than otherwise accompanies such an occasion when nature is unaided.

Write the Bradfield Regulator Co., K-46 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Motherhood Book," so valuable to expectant mothers, and in the meantime do not by any chance fail to purchase a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort. Mother's Friend should be applied night and morning with the utmost regularity.—(adv.)

Miss Mary Dickinson Will Aid in Campaign Against Tuberculosis

The Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis association has added to its staff of workers a special educational agent. Miss Mary Dickinson, who is the new worker, comes to Atlanta directly from Chicago university, where she has been studying sociology and other allied subjects. Miss Dickinson is not a stranger in Atlanta, having been connected with the social work at Wesley house and the Kindergarten Normal school in this city.

The duties of the new office will be performed in connection with the educational department of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, of which Mrs. Beaumont Davison is chairman. The duties will consist of instruction by means of lectures, slides and exhibits, on the conservation of health.

The work to be taken up immediately will consist of an exhibit at the Southeastern fair, where the prevention of tuberculosis and its cure will be demonstrated by models, placards and pictures.

Soldier Asks Court To Give His Daughter Into Mother's Custody

J. R. Moore, a soldier stationed at Camp Wheeler, told Judge Bell, of the motion division of the superior court, Friday, that he was perfectly willing to fight for his country, but that he wanted his pay to be turned over to his mother for the support of his little 4-year-old girl.

He says that he knows he cannot keep her himself, but that he will be satisfied to know that she is not under the control of his wife. He declares that Mrs. Amy Lee Moore, who is employed as a clerk in a local insurance company, is not a proper person to have the care of the child. He introduced a telephone operator as a witness, who testified that she saw a second lieutenant kiss Mrs. Moore on a Washington street car.

Mrs. Moore denied the charges brought against her and fought the effort made by her husband to take the child from her. Moore was represented by Attorneys Ransom & Silverman, while Attorney J. A. Branch was the counsel for Mrs. Moore. The hearing will be concluded today.

MRS. EMILY M'AFEE DIES ON THURSDAY EVENING

Mrs. Emily McAfee, a well-known resident of Cumming, Ga., died at a private sanitarium near Atlanta, about 7 o'clock Thursday evening. She is survived by her daughters, Mrs. J. M. Knox, of Villa Rica, Ga.; Mrs. J. G. Puett, of Cumming, Ga., and Mrs. L. P. Lockart, of Atlanta, and by her sons, W. P. McAfee, of Chicago, Ill.; J. M. McAfee, of Cumming, Ga.; Benjamin McAfee, of Cumming, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The body was carried to Cumming Friday and the burial took place in the cemetery there Friday afternoon. Mrs. McAfee had almost reached her ninety-fifth birthday. She was a resident of Cumming for most of that time and was well known and beloved.

Plans Are Being Made For Sending Packages To Boys "Over There"

The war department, the American Red Cross and the postal authorities are completing plans to expedite the delivery of gift packages to our men in the trenches.

The men "over there" are to receive coupons to be forwarded to friends and relatives "over here." These coupons or labels are to be placed on the one package, which is the limit placed on Christmas cheer parcels to be sent to each man in France.

The Red Cross will inspect all packages. They will then be wrapped by the Red Cross who will turn them over to the postoffice authorities to send to the expeditionary forces.

MANY REGISTRANTS AIDED ON FRIDAY

DEKALB LAWYERS SET FEE FOR QUESTIONNAIRES

Decatur, Ga., September 27.—(Special.)—The DeKalb County Bar association at noon Friday passed resolutions providing that members would make a charge for filling out questionnaires, where there was a claim for deferred classification. A fee of $1 will be made for a claim for deferred classification on the ground of dependency; for agricultural or industrial claims a charge of $2 will be made; where it is necessary to go outside of the office for affidavits, etc., the privilege is granted members of the bar association to charge a larger fee. Where there is no claim for a deferred classification no charge will be made.

The local board of DeKalb county has completed the mailing out of all questionnaires to those under 36.

Get Your Name On The Christmas Shoppers' Honor Roll

Christmas Shopping starts Tuesday Morning, October 1st, this year. That's your country's call.

The name of everyone who buys at least one Christmas Gift that week belongs on the Honor Roll.

Men must be released for the War.

Women must be released for War Work.

Stores will use the smallest number of employees possible.

Stores will not be kept open any extra hours just before Christmas as formerly.

Stores will not employ any extra help to handle Christmas trade this year.

The Government asks these things and the American Retailers have promised to comply.

You, accordingly, are asked to shop early this year—much earlier than ever before. You are asked to begin shopping Tuesday, October 1st, and to carry home all you can each time you shop.

Of course, you will do it willingly, cheerfully, gladly, because you want to do your part.

The Christmas gift goods stock of Atlanta Merchants will be very complete on Opening Day, Tuesday the 1st.

Come, put your name on the Honor Roll.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE.

Since the board of trustees have admitted women to certain departments of the state university, leading women of Georgia and the federated women will now ask that the medical department of the university be opened to women.

Why not?

If any young woman of Georgia wants to qualify herself for the medical profession why should she not have the privilege of taking advantage of the facilities offered by the institution that the state maintains ostensibly for the benefit of all of its people?

If there is any profession on earth for which a woman, by temperament and every other qualification, is inherently fitted, it is the medical profession.

Women are superior to men as trained nurses; and the practice of medicine is directly in line with, and only a step beyond, the profession of nursing.

The few women practitioners in Georgia were compelled to go outside of Georgia for their medical education. Doubtless there are hundreds of young women in this state today who aspire to a doctor of medicine degree; but under existing conditions they will have to go outside of the state for it.

All over the country, where medical staffs of hospitals have been depleted by reason of their members having been called into the federal service, women physicians have taken the places of the men. The demand for physicians and surgeons is constantly growing greater; and the increasing demand for men for war medical service, for which women doctors are not so well equipped, causes a correspondingly increasing demand for women physicians in civilian service.

Aside from the justice, fairness and ethics of the question, it is both expedient and patriotic for Georgia to open the doors of its medical college to its young women.

It is even more important that this be done than that the facilities of any other department of the university should be extended to women, because there are numerous institutions here in Georgia where women may go for higher education, but none where they may acquire medical education. To take a course in medicine our young women must go outside of the state, because there is not a medical college in Georgia today that admits women!

COMMERCIAL SLACKERS.

When the food administration finds a merchant guilty of hoarding or of selling his wares at prices in excess of the liberal war-time profit margin that is prescribed he is compelled to make a contribution to some worthy patriotic or humanitarian cause, such as the Red Cross or the Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Which amounts only to compelling the culprit to do his citizenship duty, because those institutions are maintained wholly by popular subscriptions, and it is the duty of every one of us to contribute to their support in accordance with individual means.

So far as the "penalty" imposed goes, the guilty food merchant, of course, is not hurt deeply; in fact, he thinks no more of peeling off a few bank notes from his roll of profits—of questionable legality—than does the professional blind tiger when he is caught, convicted and permitted to buy his way to freedom by the fining method. The tiger, under such circumstances, feels fortunate, and laughs at the law, because conscience is a stranger to him, and moral rectitude is not an asset in his business.

And the food conscienceless profiteer doubtless would laugh at the food administration when he happens to be caught cheating the government, the public and the boys "over there," and is forced to make a donation, if the donation itself represented the extent of his penalty!

But it does not!

The tiger, in his business, caters to immorality and indecency. The food merchant, in his, to precisely the opposite.

When the tiger is nipped by the law and fined, his patrons' only comment is something to the effect that: "Well, poor old Hank got caught at last, and assessed! But he's a good old life-saver; and he'll soon make it all back!"

Whereas, when the profiteer is "turned up" and "assessed," his former patrons say—or, at least think—something like this:

"And so he's one of the breed that has been employing the war simply as a stepping stone to personal enrichment; who would make dollars out of the fact that my boy is facing the hardships of warfare and the supreme hazards of the battle-line in order to help make this free land of ours a safe place in which to live and transact business! Not another cent of my money will go into his till if I can keep it out!"

And that is the punishment that hurts, and that should hurt!

BRING OUT THE BEST MEN.

In a communication appearing elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution, Edgar A. Neely, chairman of the school patrons' mass meeting recently held in this city in the interests of better schools, urges "that the people be giving thought to this matter" pending his appointment of an advisory committee to assist in finding the best available material from which to choose the next board of education.

This is timely counsel; and it should be heeded by every school patron and every citizen.

Mr. Neely emphasizes the fact that the work of the committee will be "simply of an inspirational character, to stimulate the action of local community organizations," and to assist the people in arousing interest in school matters in general, and to the importance of seeking out and deciding upon the very best available men in each school district—the more the better—from which to select at the polls the personnel of the next school board.

The thing that is needed now, and that is of pre-eminent importance at this time, is an arousing of public interest, public sentiment and the "better schools" spirit on the part of the people.

The main and the most important thing is to bring out the best qualified men to be found in the whole city—in the ranks of labor, of the professions, of business—from which to select five to compose the board of education.

The whole purpose is to work out the problems of school government by the people themselves—to work them out from the bottom up—and it is significant and appropriate that the movement to this end should have started with the school patrons themselves.

It is the duty of every citizen now to give this matter his best thought, and to do his part toward carrying the good work along to a realization of the full measure of its possibilities.

The movement should reach every hearthstone in the city—and from them it should spread to community meetings; to wards and school district gatherings.

The more widespread the movement the better the result.

A WELL-MERITED HONOR.

The election of Robert F. Maddox, of Atlanta, to the presidency of the American Bankers' association, at its convention in Chicago, comes as a well-merited tribute and confers a high honor not only on him, but on his city and state.

No matter what a man's profession may be, it is a notable recognition of his worth and his ability for him to be chosen to stand at the head of it. But to be placed at the head of all American bankers is a rare and significant honor that, relatively speaking, comes to but few men, for the reason that there are few organizations that are of the scope and magnitude of the American Bankers' association. Upon its membership rolls and actively participating in its affairs are practically all of the great leaders of banking and the financial interests of the whole country—men of brains and of world-wide renown as financiers and business captains. Whoever is selected by such men for leadership of their organization is distinctly honored by such selection.

Mr. Maddox is younger in years than any man ever elected to the presidency of this association; and yet he is old enough to have won his spurs in every field of activity upon which he ever entered.

These have been varied, but he has "made good" in all.

Atlanta never had a better mayor than he was during his tenure in that office.

He is now at the head of one of the foremost banking institutions of the south; and his splendid achievements in banking and in other fields have naturally and appropriately brought higher honors.

As the executive head of the great association of American bankers it is a foregone conclusion that he will acquit himself with credit, and win for himself new laurels and added distinction.

It's great to see General Prosperity leading the home-brigades.

The Hindenburg liar is in as bad a fix as the Hindenburg line.

If Winter will wait till the coal's in, we'll give him something to blow about.

Uneasy lies a German war bulletin; but it lies just the same.

"Our troops are retreating to prepared Perdition," is the way the German war news ought to read.

No Wonder!

No wonder Summer went her way—
Heard us growlin' every day!
Growlin' at the Sun that made
Roses get on dress-parade!
Growlin' at the singin' streams
Tellin' Ocean all their dreams;
At the shadow an' the shine—
Fields an' meadows green an' fine;
At the changin' world an' sky,
Losin' sweet tunes in a sigh!
No wonder Summer went away—
Heard us growlin' every day!

Cheered On by Song.

Harriet Monroe's magazine, Poetry, for October, has a story of "Poets at the Front," in which there is a letter from Malcolm M. Vaughn, of the Ambulance service, telling of certain poems which have "shuddered with him along night roads, and through their bold beauty have saved him from terror."

They're "seeing things" now, according to this, from The Arkansas Gazette's exchange column:

"Man, you ain't saw no varmints yet! Sharp Dunaway has a tarantula as big as two soup plates, and he has a centipede that wears a No. 14 shoe on each of its 100 feet."

What the Mandolin Said.

(For The Constitution.)

Out of a Past where Mem'ry keeps
Her cherished things and weeps—
I list and hear, when the grate is red,
And phantom folk in the gloaming tread
To the words her mandolin said.

A pine tree lifts its branches high
In pleading to the sky;
The yellow blooms of the jasmine vine
Like lamps, swing low, and somehow twine
About her words and heart of mine.

Her dainty fingers touched the strings:
Then melody of things
Lute-like and musical and sweet
Beneath the pine tree seemed to meet
Where Love's own harvest was complete.

In every note the moon light swayed:
At touch her fingers made;
Upon the strings old loves seemed wed
As when one through a dream is led,
At the words her mandolin said.

The lute-like notes brought back again
White spray of April rain:
And dew-wet lilacs scent the air
Once more, as when she blessed them there;
Ah! mandolin and golden hair.

In the Churches

ASSOCIATE REFORMED.

"The Life-Giving Stream" is the topic for the morning sermon at the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, Rev. S. W. Reid, pastor. No evening service, as this congregation will join in the communion service at the Westminster church with the other Presbyterian churches of the city. The Young People's Christian union, Miss Mattie Lou Richardson, chairman, will conduct the meeting at Doraville at 7:30 p. m., for Camp Gordon soldiers.

FIRST BAPTIST.

Dr. C. W. Daniel will preach at both services Sunday at the First Baptist church, his subjects being "The New Freedom," in the morning, and "The Anchor of the Soul" in the evening.

The musical program will be as follows: Morning—Prelude, "Te Deum," Buck. Aria from "Simon Boccanegra" (Verdi), adapted by Mr. O'Donnelly, Preston H. Epps. Postlude.

Evening—Prelude, "In the Last Days It Shall Come to Pass," Rogers. "He Shall Feed His Flock," Harper. Postlude.

J. P. O'Donnelly, organist and director.

SECOND BAPTIST.

The musical program at the Second Baptist church Sunday will be as follows:

Prelude, Rubenstein. Anthem, "Praise Ye the Lord," Randegger. Postlude, March, Faulkes.

Evening—Prelude. Anthem, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," Adams. Postlude, March, Donizetti.

Choir: Miss Hazel Whitney, soprano; Miss Mattie Ellis, contralto; W. T. Clower, tenor; Thomas Hoffman, bass; Mrs. W. H. L. Nelms, organist and director.

CENTRAL BAPTIST.

James F. Jolly, of Dallas, Texas, great evangelistic singer, now at Camp Gordon, will be present at the Central Baptist church Sunday morning.

Ira Long, campaign manager for W. D. Upshaw, will speak at the evening service. Dr. Caleb Ridley will preach at both services.

PONCE DE LEON BAPTIST.

Dr. M. Ashby Jones' subjects Sunday at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church will be "A Labor of Love," in the morning, and in the evening "The Liberty Loan—A Bond That Binds Freedmen." Sunday is Rally day in the Sunday school. An interesting program has been arranged.

CAPITOL AVENUE BAPTIST.

The subject of Dr. W. H. Major's sermon at Capitol Avenue Baptist church Sunday morning will be "Helping Great Workers." In the evening he will speak on "My Shepherd." Bible school at 9:30 a. m.

KIRKWOOD BAPTIST.

Dr. J. L. Jackson begins a revival service Sunday night with Rev. W. L. Culbertson, of Commerce, Ga., to help him. At the Kirkwood Baptist church J. R. Bachman will address the men's Bible class at 9:50.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST.

The following services will be conducted by the Churches of Christ tomorrow:

West End Avenue—Bible study 9:45. Preaching at 11 by S. H. Hall, on "The Restoration of Primitive Christianity." Preaching at 7:45 p. m. by Clyde C. Shacklett. Communion and fellowship at 11:45 a. m.

East Point—Bible study 9:45. Communion and fellowship 11:45. Preaching at 11 by Clyde C. Shacklett. Preaching at 7:45 p. m. by S. H. Hall.

FIRST CHRISTIAN.

"Prisoners of War" will be the subject of Dr. L. O. Bricker's sermon at the First Christian church Sunday morning. In the evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Homer F. Cooke, of Jacksonville, Fla., will speak on "The Continental Drive," a special message to all Bible school workers. Bible school at 9:30 a. m. Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 p. m.

The musical program follows:

Morning—Organ prelude, Allegro Moestoss, from "Concert Overture," Faulkes. Anthem, "My Heart Shall Rejoice" (Ambrose), Mr. Waitt and choir. Offertory, "There Is a Land of Pure Delight," Shelley. Organ postlude in B, West.

Evening—Organ prelude, Melodie in F, Detheir. Anthem, "The Good Shepherd," Barri. Offertory solo, "The Shadows of the Evening Hour" (Rathbun), Mrs. Webb. Organ postlude, Silver.

The Choir—Mrs. Janet Rea Thaw, soprano; Mrs. LeRoy Webb, alto; Mr. Bruce McAdams, tenor; Mr. Ernest Waitt, bass; Miss Clementine MacGregor, organist and director.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL.

Rev. George R. Merrill will preach Sunday morning, September 29, at the Central Congregational church at the 11 o'clock service.

ALL SAINTS' EPISCOPAL.

At All Saints' Episcopal church the Sunday services will be as follows. At 8 a. m., holy communion; 11 a. m., morning prayer and sermon; at 5 p. m., evening prayer.

PONCE DE LEON METHODIST EPISCOPAL.

The Sunday school of Ponce de Leon Methodist Episcopal church will conduct the morning service next Sunday. The school will meet as usual at 9:45 o'clock and make up their records and then go into the auditorium, where a program will be presented, diplomas delivered and scholars promoted. This school is graded through the intermediate, and this program is a yearly occurrence. The morning service in the church conducted by the school will begin promptly at 10:30 instead of 11 o'clock as usual.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN.

At the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, the sermon at 11 o'clock will be preached by Rev. Paul L. Yount. This will be a farewell service, as Pastor Yount will shortly return to the congregation of St. Mark's Lutheran church in Philadelphia, of which he is pastor. In the evening, at 7:45 o'clock, Rev. H. Brent Schaeffer will preach on the subject "God and Peace." Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m., and the Brotherhood at 6:30 every Monday evening.

PONCE DE LEON METHODIST.

"We had kept still in our dugout all night while the boches were sending over their high explosives. About 4:30 in the morning they dropped over a barrage and one shell dropped into the opening of our dugout. My partner, Private Pittman, of Georgia, was torn into bits; I was bespattered with blood and fragments of his body. The flesh was torn from my limb, but I dragged myself out of the hole and back where the stretcher bearers took me up." This is part of the story Private Reuben V. Franklin, of Bessemer, Ala., will tell the audience in Ponce de Leon Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening. The pastor of the church, Rev. John Treadwell, will deliver the second lecture on "To Berlin With Pershing," using his large wall map, 9x14 feet, and showing the location of the different armies with their respective flags. Lieutenant Webb, instructor in the gas school at Camp Gordon, will sing, and the first thirty minutes of the service will be devoted to patriotic singing.

TRINITY METHODIST.

Bishop W. A. Candler will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday at Trinity Methodist, and there will be a great song service at 8 o'clock.

PAYNE MEMORIAL METHODIST.

Base Port Bustle Ever on Increase As Army Pours In

(From The Stars and Stripes, the official publication of the American Expeditionary Forces, published every Friday at Paris by and for the men of the American Expeditionary Forces.)

At an ever-increasing pace are the wheels of the American war machine in France revolving. With the same force with which American line units, in the last few weeks, have made their debut in big scale warfare, have the other branches of the service upon whose efforts depend the potency and effectiveness of the man in the trenches accomplished their less spectacular but equally important work. On the front and behind the lines recent accomplishment has been equally striking and significant.

More work was accomplished in the S. O. S., by an appreciable percentage, during July than in any previous month. More dirt was excavated on the rail lines of communication, more steel was laid, more warehouses were constructed and—more conspicuous still—at the base ports, more men were landed, more freight was discharged from incoming ships and the efficiency of its handling was materially increased.

On the same day that the American infantry, treking in the wake of the retreating Germans, gained the outskirts of Fismes, colored stevedores unloading a ship at one of the base ports unostentatiously won an important victory by discharging 1,200 tons of flour in 9½ hours, setting a record for the A. E. F. and a pace which is rarely excelled on the best equipped docks in the United States. The same group of stevedores, over a period of five days, discharged an average of 2,000 tons of cargo per day from one ship, a record more notable still.

Proving Their Value.

The tremendous growth of the A. E. F. this summer has increased proportionately the volume of supplies and munitions which must be handled at the base ports, and the docks and railroads carefully planned a year ago by American engineers to handle this vast influx of freight are now proving their immense value.

It is a 24 hours a day grind at the base ports now, where thousands of American colored troops are putting ashore the million and one articles, big and little, which are necessary for the maintenance of a modern army. The scarcity of ocean tonnage makes necessary the utilization of every ounce of ship capacity and the saving of every possible moment in dispatching supplies to France.

The Germans reasoned reassuringly, a few months ago, that American participation in the war would be small because of the lack of ships. They figured it would take six tons of shipping to support every American soldier in France.

It won't take that much. Late authoritative estimates are that each man will require between three and four tons. Several factors have entered into this reduction, not the least of which is efficient handling of the transports.

Miles of Docks Beating Germans.

The miles of American docks which have been built in France in the last year, equipped with modern freight handling machinery, make possible a much quicker dispatch of the ships than the Germans thought possible, and this is accentuated by the energy with which the work is being done.

Moreover, the American transports are scientifically loaded now, so much heavy freight, so much light freight to utilize to the limit both the dead weight and space carrying capacity of all ships, with large bulk freight on the upper decks.

A common load for a medium-sized freighter now is 1,000 tons of steel, 3,000 tons of lighter freight and a deckload of crated automobiles or airplanes.

This system of loading and handling means making six ships do the ordinary work of seven, or five ships do the ordinary work of six, which in effect is equivalent to adding many new vessels to the American merchant marine.

Speedy Return for More.

Once a ship arrives the discharge of freight begins and the work is uninterrupted until the job is completed. If freight cars are available the cargo is dispatched to the warehouses in them.

But if the freight comes faster than the trains can handle it, it is piled on the docks or in temporary storage warehouses nearby, to be sent ahead, when the congestion is relieved. Above all, the ship is discharged and started back for another load.

Most of the American colored stevedores never saw a ship until they started for France, but they are proving their worth as cargo handlers. Working in the hold of a ship with an August sun raising heat waves from the deck isn't the easiest job in the army, but they are breaking records at it—and it hasn't dampened their sunny dispositions either.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

THEY WILL COME HOME CLEAN.

The American forces in France have the cleanest record as regards morality of any army in the history of the world. This is a record in which we who know can take great pride and greater inspiration. It adds one more powerful argument to the teaching that purity of conduct is compatible with the highest manhood, that there is no reason why any man should ever for an instant lose his self-respect and his respect for womanhood. It is a record which ought to fill every soldier's mother, wife or sweetheart with thankfulness to General Pershing and those about him.

A young man who has the moral self-confidence to say NO never takes his first drink. If his mother has exacted from him a solemn pledge, that gives him greater strength to say NO, and NO without explanation or apology. If the young man doesn't take his first drink he will never be tortured by a craving for drink. He just won't have any need of alcohol in his life.

If a young man's father is a he-man with backbone he will likewise, at the proper time, exact from the boy a solemn pledge of abstinence from the more ruinous sin that goes hand-in-hand with intemperance. The proper time is when the boy is about to leave home, when he is seventeen or eighteen years old. It is a great thing for a boy to come home clean. It is a thing for which his parents may be thankful, and for which they are, to this extent at least, responsible. If they let the boy go away unpledged and untutored they fail in a plain duty.

Parents too often forget that there are everywhere men of a degenerate type who are eager for the chance to misinform the untutored lad and lead him astray in his ignorance. There can be no question in the mind of a physician of experience that the moral ruin, if not the physical degeneration, of many a promising lad is brought about in just this way—thanks to the negligence of procrastinating or cowardly parents.

The boys over there have learned that moral cleanliness and physical well being are not only compatible but inseparable. The same truth must be driven home over here.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Tattoo Marks.

Is there any known method of removing tattoo marks from the skin? (F. E. K.)

ANSWER—Only by operation. It is a serious mistake to be tattooed.

Arthritis and Rheumatism.

Please explain the difference between chronic arthritis, chronic rheumatism, rheumatoid arthritis and neuritis. (W. W. A.)

ANSWER—Arthritis is the medical term for inflammation of a joint. Chronic means prolonged in duration. Rheumatism means anything and everything or in reality nothing in particular; the term is applied when the nature of the condition is not understood. Rheumatoid means like rheumatism; this term was applied to a frequent type of joint inflammation seen in women past thirty-five years of age (chiefly), the small joints of hands or feet and later larger joints being affected, especially spinal joints. Neuritis means nerve inflammation, and except in a very crude way is not confused with joint disease. The usual cause of chronic joint inflammation, whatever name it may be given, is focal infection; the septic focus may be found about the teeth or gums, in the tonsils, in a diseased sinus in the nose, in the gall-sac or appendix, in the pelvic organs, or elsewhere in the body.

Enema Habit.

In your opinion is a daily enema to wash out the lower bowel an important factor of good health? (F. R.)

ANSWER—In certain disease conditions a daily enema may be required for a limited period. But the habit of taking an enema every day is very injurious in the long run. It causes the most obstinate form of constipation, due to a dilated lower bowel. Medicinal physics, though not exactly advisable for habitual use, are far less injurious than daily injections.

TECH'S NAVAL STUDENTS TRAINING CORPS FILLED

The quota of 150 men for the naval section of the Georgia School of Technology, Student Army Training corps, was filled Friday. In addition to this number, about twenty-five students who were previously enrolled will be granted the privilege of continuing the course, making a total of 175.

It is not yet known by the navy mobilization officer whether or not a naval officer will be detailed to the work. Because of the large number of students enrolled, however, it is thought likely that this will be done.

The intensive training to be given is such that after the completion of the course a large number of the men will be qualified to enter a naval officers' training school.

As soon as the students have been sworn in, which will be anywhere from the 1st to the 15th of October, a list of the names will be sent to the commandant of the sixth naval district, who will then issue equipment, including uniforms up to $100 in value.

Resinol

will relieve it

Resinol Ointment stops itching almost instantly. It matters little whether the cause lies in some skin disease like eczema, or the bite or sting of insects, or a disorder of the nerve supply.

Resinol Ointment acts because it contains medicinal substances which soothe and heal the skin. Its continued use is almost sure to clear away all trace of eruption.

PASTOR OF WESLEY MEMORIAL SPEAKS

Prominent Methodist Minister Restored to Health by Tanlac--Feels It a Duty to Recommend It.

Rev. W. C. Norton, of Perry, Fla., for several years pastor of Wesley Memorial church of Jacksonville, Fla., adds his testimony to the thousands of other statements from prominent men regarding the benefits derived from Tanlac. Rev. Norton said:

"Tanlac has simply restored my health and I feel it my duty to recommend it as a medicine of exceptional merit.

"I suffered from indigestion for eight or ten years. I had intense pain from gas accumulation in my stomach. At times I would grow dizzy and would have severe headaches. I seldom slept well at night and had to be extremely careful about my diet.

"The benefit I have derived from Tanlac is nothing short of wonderful. I became interested in it through friends of mine who had tried it and started taking it myself. I really feel as well now as I ever felt in my life. I sleep splendidly at night, can just eat anything I want, the indigestion has disappeared and my health is better in every way."

Tanlac is sold by Atlanta's leading druggists.—(adv.)

Will the Stars and Stripes Float Over the City of Metz?

Many American editors are imprest with the significance of the statement of Marshal Foch in a cabled message to the Knights of Columbus: "It was from Metz that Lafayette went to help your ancestors, and we shall one day see your victorious banner floating in Metz." The Richmond Journal is convinced that before the present season for open warfare closes "the Stars and Stripes will float over the city of Metz," despite the fact that it is a "long, hard road" according to Colonel Azan, the distinguished French officer.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, the leading article gives a glowing description of all the incidents relating to the first great American victory in Europe in which our army, with the gallant French, wiped out the St. Mihiel salient in twenty-seven hours and shows how this victory affects the future downfall of Metz. Accompanying this article is a splendid full-page colored map, with a complete index, of the terrain now being fought over by the American troops.

Other news features of great interest in this number of "The Digest" are:

unless you place a definite order for it with your news-dealer. The War Industries Board has ordered all publishers to conserve paper, freight tonnage, labor, power, etc., by limiting publishing to actual demand. News-dealers must order their supplies closely—no extra copies. As THE LITERARY DIGEST sells out a few hours after it is placed on the news-stands, we would suggest to all our friends that when they buy this week's number they tell the news-dealer to save next week's number for them, or better yet, several future numbers. This is the only plan that will insure your getting "The Digest" regularly from your news-dealer.

GIFTS FOR QUARANTINED MEN COLLECTED IN CITY

Atlanta Women to Shower Spanish "Flu" Patients at Camp Gordon.

"Showers" are usually heralded in the society columns. You'll read about linen showers and stocking showers, and—various other kinds of showers.

But this story is about a different kind of shower. It's a shower where 40,000 gifts were distributed.

You see, it's pretty monotonous being quarantined at camp—can't get into town at all. Nothing to do but just sit and think about quarantine, because of the Spanish flu.

The women of Atlanta have evolved an idea to have a great big shower next Friday for the boys at Camp Gordon, when every one of the boys in quarantine will receive a gift from some friend in Atlanta.

If you want to send something just tie it up and put your name and address on the back of it, and see that it gets to the Rotary Soldiers' club on Peachtree street by next Thursday night. Anything you send will be acceptable, but eats are especially invited. Just small packages, and plenty of 'em. That's what they want. A package of cigarettes, a package of chewing gum, or peanut butter sandwiches or cookies, or jam sandwiches, or story books, or joke books, or funny little dolls, or most anything that'll make the boys laugh, or tickle the inner man—or, well, you know. So just send it along.

Friday morning, representatives of the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus and the Jewish Welfare will go to the Rotary club and get all the presents and take to the camp and distribute them among the quarantined boys. The presents will be collected under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service, with Mrs. T. T. Stevens at the head of the movement. The committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. J. S. Pope, chairman; Mrs. G. C. Jones, vice chairman; Mrs. Harry Schlesinger, vice chairman; Mrs. J. C. Sage, secretary; G. R. Hurlbutt, chairman of distribution.

CAMP NEWS BUREAU EDITOR RECEIVES HIGH PROMOTION

Replacement headquarters at Camp Gordon announces the promotion of Private John Goldstrom to the rank of battalion sergeant major. Sergeant Major Goldstrom was formerly of The Chicago Herald-Examiner and is now headquarters editor of the replacement news bureau.

OLD GORDON SOLDIER IS GIVEN D. S. O. HONOR

Private Pasquale Giacomo, of New York, a member of the 82d division, which trained at Camp Gordon, has been awarded the distinguished service cross by General Pershing for heroism in action, and many of the camp's old settlers are trying to remember just what kind of record he made at Gordon.

Giacomo was 25 years old, and his home is at 21 Cleveland place, New York. He came to Gordon from Camp Upton, trained with the division and went overseas with it in the spring. John B. Garner, of Cedartown, Ga., was awarded the same honor with Giacomo several days ago.

NAVAL COMMISSION FOR J. D. MANGHAM

J. D. Mangham, son of J. J. Mangham, well known in Atlanta real estate circles, has received a commission as an ensign in the United States navy.

Mr. Mangham enlisted in the navy soon after war was declared by the ENSIGN J. D. MANGHAM.

United States, and was sent to the naval station at Charleston, S. C., for his training course. He is now on duty as an officer on a United States gunboat. Before enlisting in the navy, Mr. Mangham was connected with the Westinghouse Lamp company, of this city. He has lived here for most of his life and is an alumnus of the Georgia School of Technology. He is 22 years of age.

Samuel W. Mangham, another son of J. J. Mangham, is now an ensign in the navy at 21 years of age.

Both of these young men are well known in Atlanta and both are making highly creditable records in the navy.

CHAMPION CHESS MAN CHALLENGES ALL CAMP

Private Albert Marder Is Chess Champion of New York State.

Chess players, attention!

Meet Private Albert Marder, Q. M. C., champion chess player, who, through the Jewish welfare board, issues a challenge to Camp Gordon chess players, come one, come all, to meet him in tournament at Jewish Welfare unit, Carroll and Hood avenues, at a day and date to be announced soon through the columns of Trench and Camp.

Private Marder says that he is willing to meet at one sitting either one or sixty players simultaneously. If you don't believe this, Mr. Chess Player, come to the service counter of the "little white house," leave your name and number of your organization, with the field representative in charge of the counter, and in a very little while you will receive notice to meet Private Marder face to face in a chess duel which will keep your feet from getting cold.

Here's Marder's record:

Champion, New York state, 1913; champion, Rice Chess club, 1912; played Newark Chess club in simultaneous match, winning 17, losing 2, drawing 2; played with Capablanca, Marshall and other masters of the chess board.

Think it over. Then come to the service unit and do what you were asked to do in the earlier part of this yarn. Also get yourself a little chess board and practice up during spare time.

GORDON MAKES PUBLIC NATURE OF BOND DRIVE

Campaign Will Be Sane One to Sell to Those Financially Able.

A sane campaign that will place Liberty Bonds of the fourth issue in the hands of every soldier at Camp Gordon who can afford to pay for hem in addition to carrying his allottment and insurance, is planned by military officials in charge of the sale of Bonds at the camp.

Camp Gordon officials are also planning to give all aid possible to local loan committees in the sale of bonds among civilians. All the camp bands are to visit towns and cities about the state and held to rouse interest in the campaign to the pitch it deserves.

The following is a national order that will explain the methods to be used among the men in khaki:

"No competitive campaign for sale of Liberty Bonds will be instituted. Enlisted men who have but small margin of pay remaining after dicharge of their fixed monthly obligations will not be encouraged to assume additional burdens, but steps will be taken to see that military personnel is instructed as to character of bonds, and given every opportunity to subscribe. Organization commanders will see that soldiers do not so obligate their pay that they are unable to provide for their families. A weekly telegraphic report to the adjutant general of the army showing total subscription to midnight Monday, by officers, enlisted men and civilian employees in Philippines, China, Hawaii, Alaska, Panama Canal zone, and Europe will be made by the general commanding our forces, and similar reports will be made by each department commander, division commander, commanding generals or ports of embarkation and commanding generals of coast artillery districts for each post, station, or other place under military control.

This report will give total subscriptions and, in addition thereto, in each instant amount, allotted to secretary of treasury in continental limits of United States. This telegraphic report will be supplemented by mail report showing total subscriptions of each organization. Final report will be made by midnight, October 21, giving grand total and absolutely accurate statement of amount of allottments to secretary of treasury.

"Local Liberty Loan committee will be given such co-operation and assistance in prosecution of their campaign as may be done without interfering with military program. Publicity men in each Federal reserve district are ready to extend full co-operation to all military organizations in their districts and will provide literature, posters, speakers and such other help as may be requested. Army representatives will immediately confer with them in person, by mail, or by wire and procure necessary supplies and arrange for such other assistance as may be needed. Friendly co-operation of various helpful civil agencies, located in camps, will also be utilized to fullest extent. Brigadier General Herbert M. Lord, Q. M. C., has been designated officer in charge of sale of Liberty Loan Bonds for the army. These instructions will be given widest publicity by department and division commanders, and will be read aloud at first retreat roll call after receipt."

ATLANTA CASUALTIES CONFIRMED FRIDAY

Official confirmation of the death in action of William Andrew Lewis, and the injury of Sergeant Dalton M. Wilkins, both of Atlanta, was contained in the casualty list of Friday afternoon.

Lewis was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lewis, 15 Clifton street. Wilkins is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins, 129 East Georgia avenue, and he is back in the line after four weeks spent in a French hospital recovering from the effect of gas.

ATLANTAN RECOVERING AFTER BEING GASSED

Mrs. Omi Tippins, of No. 32 Fulton terrace, has received a letter from Captain Otto P. Mayr, commanding Company C, Ninth infantry, A. E. F., telling of the incidents surrounding the injury of her son, Amos M. Tippins. Captain Mayr writes that her son was gassed on June 24, 1918, while facing the enemy and holding an important position. A postscript says: "Not seriously gassed. Expected to be released from hospital in a few days."

SOLDIERS ARE INVITED TO MASONIC MEETING

Gate City lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., will confer the Fellowcraft degree on a large class, composed exclusively of soldiers on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple.

Worshipful Master Woolley has announced a highly interesting musical program for the occasion, and, through him, the lodge extends a cordial invitation to all soldiers who are Masons to meet with them.

There will be a number of Masons in attendance at the Masonic Soldiers' club in the Masonic Temple Saturday night and all Masons are urged to be present to continue the successful work of this organization in extending the acquaintance of visiting soldiers.

Important Schedule Changes
Southern Railroad System

Effective Sunday, Sept. 29th, train No. 10 will leave Atlanta 5:25 p. m. instead of 4:35 p. m., arriving Chattanooga and Cincinnati same as at present.

Trains Nos. 32 and 21, now running between Atlanta and Rome, will be extended and run through from Atlanta to Chattanooga on following schedule: No. 32 leaves Atlanta 3:00 p. m., arrive Chattanooga 8:45 p. m.; No. 21 leaves Chattanooga 5:00 a. m., arrives Atlanta 10:35 a. m.

Train No. 9, from Chattanooga to Cincinnati, will arrive Atlanta 12:40 p. m. instead of 1:35 p. m.—(adv.)

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—As the result of favorable war news from the western and Balkan fronts the market met with a big demand of the part of both domestic and foreign trade interests, which advanced prices over 100 points from yesterday's closing. Selling for the south today was smaller than for some time past and due to the lack of offerings from this source the advance was more rapid than otherwise would have been the case.
J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—The same steady demand which has marked the buying of the past two days and which was attributed to the French commission, has continued today. Whoever it is who has been buying has evidently taken the view that by buying here and in New Orleans they employed the capital and the organization of the cotton trade as it has been developed after fifty years of experience. The hedge selling as absorbed by this demand. Some of the outside short interest bought to a moderate extent. Our mills are still waiting for lower prices, although the victories abroad are giving more confidence to the growers of cotton that before. Crop reports show a moderate deterioration during the month. Spinners generally feel that the government will take care of their requirements in some manner not as yet developed that is why they do not accumulate a stock of cotton as usual at this season of the year. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—The buying recently has been of a character that would indicate that contracts were being taken out of the market with the result that short sales made when there was an appearance of temporary weakness were invariably covered up later as soon as the new buying from the same source again entered the market. We continue to believe that until contracts are approximately thirty-five cents that purchases are probable.
JOHNSTON BROS.

Coffee.

New York September 27.—Talk of slightly easier cost and freight offers caused scattering liquidation in the market for coffee futures, which was open only for the afternoon session today. First prices were unchanged to 1 point lower and March sold at 9.33, or 3 points net higher early in the afternoon, but later broke to 9.30, while July sold off to 9.52 with the list closing net unchanged to 3 points lower. Closing bids: September, 8.50; October, 8.65; December, 8.95; January, 9.10; March, 9.50; May, 9.41; July, 9.53.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio sevens, 9⅝; Santos fours, 13¼. Sales of Santos threes and fours were reported in the cost and freight market at 12.85 steamer shipment. London credits.

The official cables showed a decline of 125 reis at Rio. Santos spots were unchanged and futures unchanged to 50 reis lower. Rio cleared 15,000 bags and Santos 70,000 for the United States. Brazilian port receipts, 49,000; Jundiahy receipts, 88,000.

New York, September 27.—There was a very sharp advance in the cotton market today on buying which seemed to be inspired by the very favorable war news and reports that Bulgaria was seeking peace. The general list closed barely steady at a net advance of 93 to 131 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 4 to 27 points on higher Liverpool cables. There was further buying believed to be for foreign and domestic trade account to fix prices against call cotton. This demand and the rather unfavorable weather in the south promoted covering and active months soon sold 48 to 54 points net higher.

Reactions of several points followed under realizing and scattered southern selling and the market firmed up during the afternoon, becoming active and excited on the favorable war and political news. October sold up to 34.18 and January to 33.15, with active months generally showing net advances of 119 to 147 points. There was heavy realizing at this level and last prices showed reactions of 20 to 30 points.

A statement from Chairman Page, of the cotton inquiry committee, to the effect that there would be no recommendation to fix a price on raw cotton until sufficient time had elapsed to test the work of the committe on distribution unless unexpected changes should occur in the market of such violence as to threaten the welfare of legitimate interests in the meantime, probably helped the afternoon advance. Two private crop reports were issued, one making the conditon 55.2 and the indicated yield 12,100,000, and the other placing the condition at 55.7 and the indicated crop at 11,700,000.

WIDE ADVANCES PREVAIL IN NEW ORLEANS COTTON

New Orleans, September 27.—It was a session of wide advances in cotton today. The trade forgot all about price fixing and bullish sentiment was greatly strengthened by the war news, the heavy rains in the belt and the much better feeling in the interior spot markets. Highest prices came late in the day when the trading months were 108 to 125 points up; the close was 99 to 108 up.

The opening was at the advance on the report that Bulgaria was seeking an armistice and after the call the demand was strengthened by the heavy rains in the central and eastern portions of the belt and by prospects of frost tonight in the northwest portion. Hedge placing came in at the advance, but the recessions were hardly more than a dollar a bale and at noon the active months were 46 to 83 points up. Trade buying was a factor at this stage of the session.

In the afternoon the greatest strength and activity developed, chiefly as the result of reports of a much better demand for all grades of spots at higher prices, especially in the Texas markets. Also there were rumors of the surrender of Bulgarian forces. Highest prices came after the quoting of the spot market, which was called steady at a net rise of 25 points, putting middling to 32.50, as compared with 32.20 at the highest price of the day on October.

Spots in New Orleans.

Spot cotton steady, 25 points up. Sales on the spot 1,197 bales; to arrive, 1,912. Low middling, 28.75; middling, 32.50; good middling, 33.50. Receipts, 7,387; stock, 228,018.

ACTIVE MARKET SHOWN BY STOCKS

Bulgarian Peace Overtures and Enthusiasm Over Liberty Loan Were Contributory Effects.

New York, September 27.—A stock market by far the broadest and most active today since last week's period of liquidation was associated directly with the Bulgarian peace overtures. Strength was contributed also by the enthusiasm displayed over the fourth Liberty Loan with reports that enormous subscriptions from corporations and individuals had been promised.

In a turn-over exceeding half a million shares in volume, representing the injestion of strong investment buying for both cash and speculative account, and reflecting also much short covering, prices in many instances rose to new high levels for the present movement. The general trading sentiment indicated increasing confidence in the stability of the market's technical condition, and the gains established ran from 1 to 2 points in the general list and amounted to 6½ to 10½, respectively, by Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company.

Purchases of United States Steel on an immense scale, which lifted it 2¼ to 113½ and indications of concerted buying in many other popular issues impressed the short faction and there was a general scurrying to cover. Investment buying was reflected in a steady absorption of the high grade railroad stocks, and evidences of outside interest were manifested in the pronounced inquiry of numerous shares which are not ordinarily dealt in except in a period of decided bullish enthusiasm.

The bond market shared in the improved tone, with a decided inquiry for Liberty issues and foreign war fluctuations. Sales, par value, $10,400,000.

United States bonds, old series, unchanged on call.

SEVERE BREAK IN CORN MARKET

Bulgarian Efforts at Armistice Caused a Five-Cent a Bushel Decline With Slight Recoveries Later.

Chicago, September 27.—Severe breaks in the price of corn resulted today from Bulgarian efforts for an armistice. After setbacks that reached 5 cents a bushel, the market closed nervous, 3½ to 4⅝c net lower, with October $1.42½ to $1.42¾ and November $1.40½ to $1.48⅝. Oats finished ⅞ to 1⅛@1¼c down. The outcome in provisions varied from 15c decline to 17c advance.

General selling in the corn market took place from the outset, but it was not until the final half hour that the most acute weakness developed. Doubt as to whether the action of the Bulgarian premier in seeking peace had been fully authorized did much to retard the descent of values. At no time, however, did the market react to any important extent. Temporary upturns which were noted came from profit-taking by shorts and did not change the prevailing bearish sentiment. Other factors than the armistice received but little attention.

Oats sympathized with the weakness of corn. Government and export buying, though, checked the decline.

Higher quotations on hogs gave some strength to provisions, but the weakness of corn finally became an offset.

PRICE-FIXING REPORTS FEATURED COTTON WEEK

New York, September 27.—Nervousness over the price-fixing proposition was relieved by the appointment of two committees by the war industries board on last Tuesday. This announcement was followed by a statement from the chairman of the new committee on distribution stating that operations would be conducted through the existing channels of trade and with as little disturbance of existing facilities and organization as possible.

The chairman of the committee on inquiry was also quoted as hoping that the operations of the committee on distribution in alloting quantities and equalities of cotton to foreign and domestic consumers would sufficiently stabilize the market to render price-fixing unnecessary. Prices rallied following these reports, and the market was firm later in the week on covering and trade buying, with sentiment evidently influenced by the favorable war and political news and rather unfavorable weather for the crop. December contracts sold at 33.61 today, compared with 31.20, the low level of last Tuesday, and the week closed with prices only a few points off from the best.

It is reported that uncertainty as to the exact procedure of the committee on distribution has led to a practical withdrawal of manufacturers from the immediate market, but there has been trade buying in futures, presumably to fix prices on call cotton. A good part of such business has been attributed to the French commission, and Liverpool has also been a buyer here during the week.

Stocks of American cotton in Liverpool now amount to less than a week's consumption by Lancashire mills, and the English market has ruled firm owing to trade buying and scarcity of contracts. Owing to the excitement over government control possibilities, the trade paid little attention to weather or crop news during the earlier part of the week, and sentiment has not yet fully formed as to the probable showing of the government report next week. Only two of the private reports have so far appeared, one of them making the condition 55.2 against 61.8 last month, and pointed to a crop of 12,100,000 bales, excluding linters, while the other made the condition 55.7 and the crop indication 11,700,000 bales, excluding linters. Private reports indicate ginning of 3,970,00 bales to September 25.

RICE CROP IS SHORT IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Charleston, S. C., September 27.—While early estimates for the rice crop of this section indicated 100,000 bushels, it is believed now that the total will not exceed 50,000 bushels, as damage done by brackish water, drought, and rice birds during the growing and harvesting season has affected the yield seriously. Foreseeing high prices, planters in this section increased their acreage this spring, expecting handsome returns. There is much disappointment felt because of damage to crops. The rice bird problem adds another burden to the industry, as government protection of this pest means that the birds infesting the fields cannot be killed. A federal agent is now investigating this problem and relief is hoped for shortly.

CENTRAL ASKS CHANGES IN TRAIN SCHEDULES

Central of Georgia railroad, Friday filed with the state railroad commission a petition to discontinue train No. 11, a local from Conyers to Atlanta, and to extend No. 13, which now starts at Social Circle and runs as a local to Atlanta, to Monroe; in other words, give Monroe a through train to Atlanta, which train will stop at Social Circle at 5:30 a. m.

The train that will be discontinued, if the petition is approved by the commission, leaves Conyers at 5:30 a. m. and arrives in Atlanta at 7:25 a. m. There is no return schedule for this train. The schedule for the Monroe train No. 13, is as follows: Leaves Monroe at 5 a. m., arrive in Atlanta 7:40 a. m. Under the new schedule No. 14 will make the return trip, leaving Atlanta at 6:10 p. m. and reaching Monroe at 8:40 p. m.

The hearing on this change in schedule will come up before the commission on October 18.

Italian Lawyer Seeks Aid.

A young Italian, who gave his name as Antonio Paganlino, who stated that he was discharged some time ago from the Italian army, arrived in Atlanta Thursday, and appealed to the local police to assist him in making his way to New Orleans. The young man, who gave his age as 26, said he came here from Savannah. He declared that before the war he was a lawyer in Italy, and desired to make his way to New Orleans, where he can get in touch with the Italian consul. Several of the police officers made up a little "pot" for him.

Three Blankets for Soldiers.

Washington, September 27.—Three blankets instead of one hereafter will be issued to each American soldier going overseas, the war department announced today. Members of the tank corps will get heavy Mackinaws instead of the ordinary army overcoats.

ADVANCED STREET AND ROAD WORK MAY BE FINISHED

Street pavement and highway construction work now substantially under way may be continued and material furnished for such work until November 1 without a special license is a ruling of the national highway council just received by W. P. Peel, of the state highway department, and Robert R. Otis, business manager of region No. 12 of the resources and conversion section of the war industries board.

After November 1, however, a special permit will be necessary for the furnishing of material for such work.

The ruling is as follows:

Contractors and others engaged in the construction of streets, pavements and roadways now substantially under way are authorized to continue such construction and manufacturers and distributors of, and dealers in, materials used in connection therewith may continue to furnish same for such construction work up to November 1.

Applications for permits should be promptly made to the United States highway council through the state highway department for the completion of all such work now under contract and under construction which can not be completed prior to November 1.

No new contracts for the maintenance, construction or reconstruction of streets, pavements and highways should be entered into, or no new construction not now in process undertaken either prior or subsequent to November 1 without first obtaining a permit from the United States highway council through the state highway department.

W. A. Hansell, superintendent of the Fulton county public works, says that this new order will affect the work on Peachtree street, Stewart avenue, Hunter street and South Boulevard, all of which is being done by the city, and also that on the Old Sandstone and Campbellton roads, which is being done by the county. None of these can be finished prior to November 1, and permits will have to be secured for them. The work on Peachtree road will not be affected, however, because a special permit has already been issued for it, on the ground that it is of military importance.

GREEK SUES GREEK FOR $50,000 DAMAGE, ALLEGING SLANDER

Charging slander, Eli Chotas, a member of Atlanta's Greek colony, has, thorugh his attorney, Walter A. Sims, brought suit for $50,000 damages against E. Basil, proprietor of the Childs Hotel and Cafe.

It is alleged that at a meeting of Greek's at the Greek Soldiers' club on Wednesday night, Basil tried to "blacken" Chotas' character by charging that Chotas had failed to pay notes made to the Greek church and had taken them from the church registry.

Chotas alleges in his complaint that when the Greek church was established twelve years ago, some Greeks paid their subscriptions in cash and others gave notes. He claims he gave notes for $500 and also a cash contribution, and that he has paid the notes. On the contrary, he alleges that Basil made notes for $350 to the church and had paid only $60 of the amount; that the notes were finally returned to Basil and that he, Chotas, was one of the number who voted to return the notes. Since that time, Chotas alleges, Basil has been "very cool" toward him.

Both plaintiff and defendant are leading members of the Atlanta Greek colony. Chotas' business interests include the Eagle cafe, Partridge cafe and the Bonita theater.

FREEDOM IS ASKED IN SIX DIVORCE SUITS

Mrs. Ardel Blake Alexander filed suit Friday for a divorce from Grant B. Alexander on the groud of cruel treatment. She alleges in her petition that at one time her husband sold all the household furniture for $3, and that he wrote her a letter saying that it was of no use for her to try to live with him "as devilment was a birthmark with him and he could not help being mean and onery."

Mrs. Helen Louise Falks filed a petition asking that her husband, James H. Falks, be made to support her and their four children and that he be restrained from leaving town as she feared he was preparing to do. She claims that he has ceased to reside at home.

Four other suits for divorce were filed on the ground of cruel treatment, namely: Mrs. Ethel Thomason vs. Aubrey Thomason, Mrs. Julia H. Hutchison vs. James A. Hutchison, Mrs. Lilian G. Purdy vs. W. J. Purdy and Mrs. Ethel Wells vs. Noah Wells. The last four suits were filed by Attorney Fred E. Harrison.

Admits Raising Check.

In the federal court yesterday Arthur Hudson, a negro, acknowledged having raised a check from $8.10 to $80. The check was cashed in a railroad office, which is the reason that the case is being tried in the federal court. A bond of $500 was made by the negro's mother, Sallie Hudson, who owns more than $2,000 worth of property at 224 Rockdale Park.

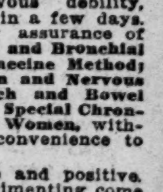

Condemned Man Respited.

Pending a hearing before the supreme court as to the reason the presiding judge should not have granted a new trial, Governor Dorsey Thursday night granted a respite until October 18 to Bart Goodwin, sentenced to be hanged in Cedartown, Friday, for the murder of his wife.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT OF WOUNDED ARRIVE

Thirty-Nine of Pershing's Heroes Enter McPherson Base Hospital.

"Our officer said, 'Let's go, boys,' and we went and ran those Boches out of their trenches like rats."

"Believe me, we have made it warm for the scoundrels. I am glad to see old Atlanta again, but didn't want to come until we had finished the job."

These are the words of two wounded southerners, who, with thirty-seven comrades of the First and Second divisions, arrived yesterday to enter the base hospital at Fort McPherson, where already there is a large number of Pershing's heroes, who have gone through the hell of battle, and have their scars to show they have met the Hun on the fields of France.

With smiles on their faces these men climbed, or were helped, from the train by willing hands, and there was no word or look of regret that they had offered on the alter of freedom their all, and were returning broken in body as a sacrifice to save humanity. Their spirit is not broken, as was shown by the jolly greeting given the Red Cross workers who met them at the station.

Modest Heroes.

While the transfer was being made to ambulances several of the men talked modestly about their experiences, and when they said they were sorry to have been put out of the fight so soon, one just had to believe it.

M. R. Davis, a jolly Kentuckian, said: "I am from Kentucky. I answered Uncle Sam's first call and enlisted in the infantry. I went to France seven months ago, and was in the front trenches four weeks. One night at 12 o'clock my officer said, 'Let's go, boys,' and we went. We ran those Boches out of their trenches as if they had been rats. One night about 1 o'clock I jumped down in one of their trenches and got me a Boche. A minute later a bit of their shrapnel got me. I went to the hospital for a while, but they let me go after them again. The next time they got me bad.

Praise for Others.

"I just want to tell the folks here at home," he said, "what the Red Cross and the Salvation Army are doing over there. Both are fighting right along with us, and when the victory is won I want these two great organizations to have their share of credit. The members of the Salvation Army, God bless 'em, they came right into the trenches like angels and fed and cheered us, and when the big guns roared and the gas alarms came they no more flinched than a soldier."

"Believe me we have made it warm for the scoundrels," said Sam Love, another southern lad. "I am glad to see old Atlanta again, but, I didn't want to come till we had finished the job. I have given to the cause a foot and five sterling good toes. I wish I could go back and get another chance at them. I would be willing to give them another' toe."

IMPARTIAL JUSTICE SOLE PRICE OF PEACE

fered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force?

"Shall strong nations be free to wrong weak nations and make them subject to their purpose and interest?

"Shall peoples be ruled and dominated even in their own internal affairs by arbitrary and irresponsible force or by their own will and choice?

"Shall there be a common standard of right and privilege for all peoples and nations, or shall the strong do as they will and the weak suffer without redress?

"Shall the assertion of right be haphazard and by casual alliance, or shall there be a common concert to oblige the observance of common rights?"

He added:

"No man, no group of men, chose these to be the issues of the struggle. They are the issues of it."

Shortly before the president started speaking, news of the further successes of American, British and French offensives on the western front reached the meeting at the Metropolitan Opera house, and this gave dramatic point to Mr. Wilson's preoration—that "'peace drives' can be effectively neutralized and silenced only by showing that every victory of the nations associated against Germany brings the nations nearer the sort of peace which will bring security and reassurance to all peoples and make the recurrence of another such struggle of pitiless force and bloodshed forever impossible, and that nothing else can.

"Germany is constantly intimating the 'terms' she will accept, and always finds that the world does not want terms," declared the president. "It wishes the final triumph of justice and fair dealing."

Great Burst of Cheering.

Five thousand persons who filled the Metropolitan opera house to capacity, heard the president speak. Five minutes before his arrival a guard of soldiers, sailors and marines seated at the rear of the platform were suddenly ordered to attention. They arose with a smart click of rifles, the national colors were advanced, and the great audience became silent. This dramatic quiet was maintained without interruption until the president, without other warning of his coming, walked on the stage, escorted by Benjamin Strong, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Then a tremendous burst of cheering broke loose, which caused the president, after taking his seat, to rise three times in acknowledgement.

A sailor band played "America," the president joining with the audience in singing it.

Mr. Strong read to the audience a summary of late reports showing American troop advances during the day in France.

"Our boys in France do not learn readily when to stop fighting," he added. "That is the spirit in which we must raise the Liberty Loan."

Cheers greeted the news of the American successes, particularly when Mr. Strong said the Yankee troops in their drive had recaptured 100 square miles of territory for France.

Patriotic fervor seemed to reach its climax when the President arose to begin his address, the audience rising and again cheering for several minutes. Mr. Wilson read from printed text.

For ten minutes after the president started speaking the audience made not a sound and his voice carried to all parts of the tiered opera house. But when he declared that the issues of the war "must be settled by no arrangement or compromise," applause broke out spontaneously. Again when he said: "We cannot 'come to terms' with them," there was another outburst, and again when he declared that "Germany will have to redeem her character, not by what happens at the peace table, but by what follows."

Throughout these demonstrations of approval punctuated his speech so that at times he was obliged to pause almost at the end of each sentence.

The president was driven to his hotel immediately at its conclusion.

Text of Wilson's Address.

The text of President Wilson's address follows:

"My Fellow Citizens: I am not here to promote the loan. That will be done—ably and enthusiastically done—by the hundreds of thousands of loyal and tireless men and women who have undertaken to present it to you and to our fellow citizens throughout the country; and I have not the least doubt of their complete success; for I know their spirit and the spirit of the country. My confidence is confirmed, too, by the thoughtful and experienced cooperation of the bankers here and everywhere, who are lending their invaluable aid and guidance. I have come, rather, to seek an opportunity to present to you some thoughts which I trust will serve to give you, in perhaps fuller measure than before, a vivid sense of the great issues involved, in order that you may appreciate and accept with added enthusiasm the grave significance of the duty of supporting the government by your men and your means to the utmost point of sacrifice and self-denial. No man or woman who has really taken in what this war means can hesitate to give to the very limit of what they have; and it is my mission here tonight to try to make it clear once more what the war really means. You will need no other stimulation or reminder of your duty.

"At every turn of the war we gain a fresh consciousness of what we mean to accomplish by it. When our hope and expectation are most excited we think more definitely than before of the issues that hang upon it and of the purposes which must be realized by means of it.

"For it has positive and well-defined purpose which we did not determine, and which we cannot alter. No statesman or assembly created them; no statesman or assembly can alter them. They have arisen out of the very nature and circumstances of the war. The most that statesmen or assemblies can do is to carry them out or be false to them. They were perhaps not clear at the outset; but they are clear now.

Whole World Drawn In.

"The war has lasted more than four years and the whole world has been drawn into it. The common will of mankind has been substituted for the particular purposes of individual states. Individual statesmen may have started the conflict, but neither they nor their opponents can stop it as they please. It has become a people's war, and people's of all sorts and races, of every degree of power and variety of fortune, are involved in its sweeping processes of change and settlement. We came into it when its character had become fully defined and it was plain that no nation could stand apart or be indifferent to its outcome. Its challenge drove to the heart of everything we cared for and lived for. Our brothers from many lands, as well as our own, murdered, dead under the sea, were calling to us, and we responded, fiercely and of course.

"The air was clear about us. We saw things in their full, convincing proportions as they were; and we have seen them with steady eyes and unchanging comprehension ever since. We accepted the issues of the war as facts, not as any group of men, either here or elsewhere, had defined them, and we can accept no outcome which does not squarely meet and settle them. Those issues are these:

"Shall the military power of any nation or group of nations be suffered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force?

"Shall strong nations be free to wrong weak nations and make them subject to their purpose and interest?

"Shall peoples be ruled and dominated, even in their own private affairs, by arbitrary and irresponsible force or by their own will and choice?

"Shall there be a common standard of right and privilege for all peoples and nations or shall the strong do as they will and the weak suffer without redress?

"Shall the assertion of right be haphazard and by casual alliance or shall there be a common concert to oblige the observance of common rights?

Issues Must Be Settled.

"No man, no group of men, chose these to be the issues of the struggle. They are the issues of it; and they must be settled—by no arrangement or compromise or adjustment of interests—but definitely and once for all and with a full and unequivocal acceptance of the principles that the interest of the weakest is as sacred as the interest of the strongest.

"This is what we mean when we speak of a permanent peace, if we speak sincerely, intelligently, and with a real knowledge and comprehension of the matter we deal with.

"We are all agreed that there can be no peace by any kind of bargain or compromise with the governments of the Central empires because we have dealt with them already and have seen them deal with other governments that were parties to this struggle, at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest. They have convinced us that they are without honor and do not intend justice. They observe no covenants, accept no principle but force and their own interest. We cannot 'come to terms' with them. They have made it impossible. The German people must by this time be fully aware that we cannot accept the word of those who forced this war upon us. We do not think the same thoughts or speak the same language of agreement.

"It is of capital importance that we should also be explicitly agreed that no peace shall be obtained by any kind of compromise or abatement of the principles we have avowed as the principles for which we are fighting. There should exist no doubt about that. I am, therefore, going to take the liberty of speaking with the utmost frankness about the practical implications that are involved in it.

"If it be in deed and in truth the common object of the governments associated against Germany and of the nations whom they govern, as I believe it to be, to achieve by the coming settlements a secure and lasting peace, it will be necessary that all who sit down at the peace table shall come ready and willing to pay the price, the only price, that will procure it; and ready and willing, also, to create in some virile fashion the only instrumentality by which it can be made certain that the agreements of the peace will be honored and fulfilled.

Impartial Justice in Every Item.

"That price is impartial justice in every item of the settlement, no matter whose interest is crossed, and not only impartial justice, but also the satisfaction of the several peoples whose fortunes are dealt with. That indispensable instrumentality is a league of nations formed under covenants that will be effeacious. Without such an instrumentality, by which the peace of the world can be guaranteed, peace will rest in part upon the word of outlaws and only upon that word. For Germany will have to redeem her character, not by what happens at the peace table, but by what follows.

"And, as I see it, the constitution of that league of nations and the clear definition of its objects must be a part, is in a sense the most essential part of the peace settlement itself. It cannot be formed now. If formed now it would be merely a new alliance confined to the nations associated against the common enemy. It is not likely that it could be formed after the settlement. It is necessary to guarantee the peace, and the peace cannot be guaranteed as an after thought. The raeson, to speak in plain terms again, why it must be guaranteed, is htat there will be parties to the peace whose promises have proved untrustworthy and means must be found in connection with the peace settlement itself to remove that source of insecurity. It would be folly to leave the guarantee to the subsequent voluntary action of the governments we have seen destroy Russia and deceive Rumania.

Some of the Details.

"But these general terms do not disclose the whole matter. Some details are needed to make them sound less like a thesis and more like a practical program. These, then ,are some of the particulars, and I state them with the greater confidence because I can state them authoritatively as representing this government's interpretation of its own duty with regard to peace:

"First, the impartial justice meted out involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be a justice that plays no favorites and knows no standard, but the equal rights of the several peoples concerned.

"Second, no special or separate interest of any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interests of all.

"Third, there can be no leagues or alliances or special covenants and understandings with the general and common family of the league of nations.

"Fourth, and more specifically, there can be no special, selfish economic combinations within the league, and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control.

"Fifth, all international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known, in their entirely, to the rest of the world.

"Special alliances and economic rivalries and hostilities have been the prolific source in the modern world of the plans and passions that produce war. It would be insincere as well as an insecure peace that did not exclude them in definite and binding terms.

"The confidence with which I venture to speak for our people in these matters does not spring from our traditions merely and the well-known principles of international action which we have always professed and followed.

Washington's Immortal Warning.

"In the same sentence in which I say the United States will enter into no special arrangements or understandings with particular nations let me say also that the United States is prepared to assume its full share of responsibility for the maintenance of the common covenants and understandings upon which peace must henceforth rest. We still read Washington's immortal warning against 'entangling alliances' with full comprehension and an answering purpose. But only special and limited alliances entangle; and we recognize and accept the duty of a new day in which we are permitted to hope for a general alliance which will avoid entanglements and clear the air of the world for common understandings and the maintenance of common rights.

"I have made this analysis of the international situation which the war has created, not, of course, because I doubted whether the leaders of the great nations and peoples with whom we are associated were of the same mind and entertained a like purpose, but because the air every now and again gets darkened by mists and groundless doubtings and mischievous perversions of counsel, and it is necessary once and again to sweep all the irresponsible talk about peace intrigues and weakening morale and doubtful purpose on the part of those in authority utterly, and, if need be, unceremoniously, aside and say things in the plainest words that can be found, even when it is only to say over again what has been said before, quite as plainly if in less unvarnished terms.

"As I have said, neither I nor any other man in governmental authority created or gave form to the issues of this war. I have simply responded to them with such vision as I could command. But I have responded gladly and with a resolution that has grown warmer and more confident as the issues have grown clearer and clearer. It is now plain that they are issues which no man can pervert unless it be wilfully. I am bound to fight for them, and happy to fight for them as time and circumstance have revealed them to me as to all the world. Our enthusiasm for them grows more and more irresistible as they stand out in more and more vivid and unmistakable outline.

Thought of the Mass Unclouded.

"And the forces that fight for them draw into closer and closer array, organize their millions into more and more unconquerable might, as they become more and more distinct to the thought and purpose of the peoples engaged. It is the peculiarity of this great war that while statesmen have seemed to cast about for definitions of their purpose and have sometimes seemed to shift their ground and their point of view, the thought of the mass of men, whom statesmen are supposed to instruct and lead, has grown more and more unclouded, more and more certain of what it is that they are fighting for. National purposes have fallen more and more into the background and the common purpose of enlightened mankind has taken their place. The counsels of plain men have become on all hands more simple and straightforward and more unified than the counsels of sophisticated men of affairs who still retain the impression that they are playing a game of power and playing for high stakes. That is why I have said that this is a people's war, not a statesmen's. Statesmen must follow the clarified common thought or be broken.

"I take that to be the significance of the fact that assemblies and associations of many kinds made up of plain workaday people have demanded, almost every time they came together, and are still demanding, that the leaders of their governments declare to them plainly what it is, exactly what it is, that they were seeking in this war, and what they think the items of the final settlement should be. They are not yet satisfied with what they have been told. They still seem to fear that they are getting what they ask for only in statesmen's terms—only in the terms of territorial arrangements and division of power, and not in terms of broad-visioned justice and mercy and peace and the satisfaction of those deep seated longings of oppressed and distracted men and women and enslaved peoples that seem to them the only things worth fighting a war for that engulfs the world. Perhaps statesmen have not always recognized this changed aspect of the whole world of policy and action. Perhaps they have not always spoken in direct reply to the questions asked because they did not know how searching those questions were and what sort of answers they demanded.

To Satisfy Those in Ranks.

"But I, for one, am glad to attempt the answer again and again in the hope that I may make it clearer and clearer that my one thought is to satisfy those who struggle in the ranks and are, perhaps above all others, entitled to a reply whose meaning no one can have any excuse for misunderstanding, if he understand the language in which it is spoken or can get someone to translate it correctly into his own. And I believe that the leaders of the governments with which we are associated will speak, as they have occasion, as plainly as I have tried to speak. I hope that they will feel free to say whether they think that I am in any degree mistaken in my interpretation of the issues involved, or in my purpose with regard to the means by which a satisfactory settlement of those issues may be obtained. Unity of purpose and of counsel are as imperatively necessary in this war as was unity of command in the battlefield; and with perfect unity of purpose and counsel will come assurance of complete victory. It can be had in no other way. 'Peace drives' can be effectively neutralized and silenced only by showing that every victory of the nations associated against Germany brings the nations nearer the sort of peace which will bring security and reassurance to all peoples and make the recurrence of another such struggle of pitiless force and bloodshed forever impossible and that nothing else can. Germany is constantly intimating the 'terms' she will accept; and always finds that the world does not want terms. It wishes the final triumph of justice and fair dealings."

No House Recess.

Washington, September 27.—Plans for a house recess to begin next week and continue until after the November elections virtually were abandoned today by house leders, after several members had indicated opposition to any recess until several bills, including the new army appropriation measure, are passed. After this legislation is disposed of a recess is probable.

LOAN IS STRESSED AT CHAMBER MEET

Banquet In Honor of New Members of Chamber of Commerce Featured Big Liberty Loan Enthusiasm.

"Five thousand three hundred men are going after the folks of Atlanta bright and early Monday morning. And believe me we are going to put over the fourth Liberty Loan in record time!"

That's what Forrest Adair said last night. And it expresses the spirit of the men who gathered at the chamber of commerce banquet on yesterday evening, in honor of the 140 new members inducted into the organization during the year 1918.

"The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has never sponsored a selfish individual movement," declared President White, in an address of welcome to the new members. "It has stood for Atlanta first, last, always. And I feel safe in saying that there is not a commercial organization in the south that can boast of a better, all-work-together spirit than that which pervades our association.

"We want you new members to make use of us. Visit our headquarters; attend our monthly meetings, which are held primarily for the purpose of getting acquainted with each other. Don't just pay your dues and let it go at that. You're in now, and we're going to count on you to help."

Edgar Watkins Responds.

Hon. Edgar Watkins, responding to the address of welcome for the new members, said that he wasn't quite sure he had the right to speak as a new member, inasmuch as he had once upon a time been connected with the organization, prior to a sojourn in Washington. "I recently intimated that I might return to Washington," he reminded those present, "but the folks of the fifth congressional district came across with such a unanimous request that I remain with you, that I have decided to postpone my trip to the national capital.

"I am going to talk to you about salesmanship," declared Forrest Adair, chairman of the fourth Liberty Loan campaign. "This fourth Liberty Loan drive is not a tag day proposition. These loans are not subscriptions. They are not gifts. They represent a tax. A tax we must pay. A tax we should be glad to shoulder. Heretofore the work in connection with soliciting subscriptions for the Liberty Loans has been done by a few men. But this time we're going to change all that. We have divided the city into two sections and six zones, under the direction of Harry Hermance and E. A. Kalkhurst. As near as I can figure it, we now have 5,300 workers pledged for the campaign. And they are going to rake the town with a fine tooth comb.

Accept No Alibis.

The last bond issue was for $3,000,000,000 and Atlanta's quota was $6,000,000. This time the call is for $6,000,000,000. And the government has asked Atlanta for $14,000,000, more than twice as much as the third Liberty Loan quota.

"We will accept no alibis. The government is going to be fair with you in regard to fixing the price of cotton. And that excuse won't go in Atlanta. Of course, there are valid reasons why some men feel that they cannot subscribe heavily for the Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. The draft age has been raised, and numbers of our citizens will be closing out their business and taking up arms. That simply means that the balance of us will have to subscribe a little more than twice as much as we did in the previous campaign.

"What's the value of your money when our boys are giving all? What's the value of anything unless the Hun is licked, and licked quick? Don't wait for the solicitors to call on you. If they happen to miss you Monday, call at headquarters Tuesday morning and tell them, "Here's my money. Take it for the boys over there."

French Veterans Speak.

Following Mr. Adair's speech, Paul Boxdale D'Orr, a native of France, but now a resident of Atlanta, made an eloquent speech, introducing Sergeant Winkler and Sergeant Raphael and their interpreter, Charles Lecaf, all soldiers of the French army, who are here in connection with the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Interpreter Lecaf, speaking for the two French sergeants, explained the significance of the various medals, wound and service stripes worn by the soldiers, and related very briefly some of the experiences of himself and associates at the front. "The French are very pleased with the American soldiers," he reported, "and they know that if America had not come to the rescue France would have been lost."

The final speaker of the evening was Sergeant Raymond Vincent, an American veteran who has served two periods of time "over there," and has been seriously wounded on several occasions. Sergeant Vincent told the gathering all about No Man's Land, barrage fire, aerial bombs, not to mention rats and cooties and oodles of other interesting things. "Victory is in sight," declared the sergeant. Some say it will come in a year; some in two years. But when you gaze upon the endless line of men and munitions moving toward the front, it seems inconceivable that the war can last so very much longer. When the kaiser's host invaded Belgium, they painted signs on the buildings, 'Wilhelm, Ruler of the World.' But when we begin our spring drive we're going to take that notion out of their heads.

"Germans Are Watching."

"You've sent your boys over there and you've just got to back them up. And I know you will. There's been some talk about the unsettled price of cotton as an excuse for not buying bonds of the fourth Liberty Loan. But I say to you, fellow Georgians, that I believe if the government asked you to raise cotton and give it to the country, without a penny of profit, every man of you would go out and work to the end. We are about to launch the greatest war loan in the history of the world. And the Germans are watching us. If we put it over in the three weeks allotted for that purpose it will have a greater effect on the morale of the Hun than any battle since the beginning of the war. And we are going to put it over."

Patriotic songs, led by Mr. Veach, song leader at Camp Gordon, proved a most enjoyable feature of the program.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN IN ATLANTA TODAY

agers' association, stated that everything possible would be done and that the Liberty Loan would be featured at all theaters throughout the day, by means of the four-minute men's speeches and other methods.

Complete Organization.

Never before has Atlanta entered into a loan campaign with so complete and perfect an organization as this. Forrest Adair, chairman for the Atlanta drive, states that every man knows thoroughly what work he has to do and what is expected of him. It is fully realized that the quota asked of this city is a large one, but with grim determination Atlanta has sworn to put it across and it is certain that she will succeed.

Nearly all the workers who will visit the homes have already pledged themselves to buy bonds. On Thursday night in the seventh ward A. R. Colcord, "general" for that portion of the city, held a meeting of his majors and captains and the twelve men present subscribed to $15,500 of the bonds.

Ministers of Atlanta, of every denomination, met at 11:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce Friday and after an address by Forrest Adair, passed resolutions pledging their utmost effort to the campaign. The resolutions were as follows:

"Resolved, That the ministers of Atlanta as citizense of the United States as well as representatives of religious thought, have been and are vitally interested in the winning of this war. They regard it as war waged by the allies in the interest of righteousness and humanity, politically, ethically and religiously.

"This gathering, representing the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish ministry, assures the chairman of the Atlanta Liberty Loan committee that now, as in the past, we are ready to co-operate to the limit in making the present drive a glorious success.

"That to this end we will cheerfully buy bonds to the extent of our ability; that we will enforce upon our congregation with all vigor the high privilege and solemn responsibility of their full co-operation in this campaign, and that in private and public we will bring the sanction of our holy religion to the re-enforcement of the high ideals set out by our president and controlling our country's participation in the world war."

The Service Parade.

Names of Atlantans who are blood relatives of men in the service and who promise to march in the big service parade scheduled for 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, continue to pour into the headquarters in the Healey building.

This parade, which will be the most solemnly impressive ever witnessed here, will be headed with a military band, followed by one thousand infantrymen and squads of marines and sailors. But the main portion of the parade will be composed of the mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, wives and children of men in the service.

Gold stars, carried on the service flags of those who have already lost some loved one, who has paid his debt to liberty in full, will head the service section. These will be followed by many hundreds of marchers bearing their service flags for those "over there."

Additional names of those who have agreed to march in the Service Flag parade next Tuesday were announced Friday as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burgin, 231 Myrtle street; Judge and Mrs. A. E. Calhoun (7), 63 Highland View; Mrs. G. H. Barnes (3), 148 Juniper street; S. Bennett (3), 848 State street; Mrs. Hugh N. Mrs. Grace Nelson (2), 417 West Peters street; Mrs. Sam Stanfield (3), 288 Courtland street; M. G. Phelan, 203 Fourth National Bank building; John A. Manget (2), 533 Candler street; Mrs. S. D. Newton, 70 Belgrade avenue; Mrs. A. J. Cloud, 63 Belgrade avenue; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Holleman (2), 1600 Ponce de Leon avenue; Mrs. A. H. Church, 22 Alaska avenue; Mrs. Brantley (2), 198 Rawson street; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Kimball, Lakewood.

S. Bennett (3), 848 State street; Judge J. W. Lindsey and daughter, State capitol; Mrs. O. E. Bennett (2), 74 East Mitchell; Mrs. J. D. Bocks (2), 74 East Mitchell; S. L. Rhorer, 50 South Prado; Mrs. W. E. Heard, 123 East Pine; Mrs. F. A. Fulton, 3 Sycamore drive, Decatur; Mrs. Stella Englett, 485 Central avenue; W. O. Flannigan (2), 66 West Peachtree; Leonora Gary (3), Bolton, Ga.; Mrs. Ramby, College Park; Mrs. Anderson, 279 Ormewood street; W. A. Manning, 109 East Linden street; Mrs. L. L. Kirby, 294 Courtland street; Leon L. Kirby, Jr., 294 Courtland street; Mrs. C. W. Peebles, 135 Ormewood street.

Will Advertise Loan.

On Friday the clearing house banks of Atlanta, six in number, each donated a page of advertising to be used in the Atlanta papers for the loan. This was announced by Walter C. Hill, chairman of the advertising committee for the fourth loan.

Following the intensive Monday night drive in the residential districts, the canvass of downtown Atlanta will be carried through. Forrest Adair, city chairman, and "General" J. P. Allen, in charge of the downtown drive, have requested that one thousand patriotic men report for duty in this drive at the chamber of commerce at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

The second week of the campaign will be directed by the woman's committee, headed by Mrs. T. T. Stevens, and it is announced that they expect to at least double their splendid total of three millions secured in the third loan campaign.

Circus Illusions Shattered Friday At Show Grounds

Red Lemonade Is Missing, Swinging From Trapeze Without Thrills, But Entertainment Is Great Despite These Drawbacks.

By Eleanor Boykin.

I went to the circus to find out two things. First, how do the circus dopesters make red lemonade, and second, how does it feel to swing from a trapeze.

The answer to the first is, they don't any more; and to the next, it feels just like being on the ground.

Those two disillusioning responses to the questions I put to the people who ought to know completely quashed the splendid story I was going to do about the circus. I admit I had it all planned in advance. It was to be gloriously headlined: REPORTER DISCOVERS THE INGREDIENTS OF RED LEMONADE. I expected that when I asked the chief chemist and drink mixer of the Ringling circus that he would give me some simple formula such as syrup and water and then make me swear that I would keep his secret. And I would go proudly forth to say to thousands of Constitution readers that I had found out what they spent their nickels for every year when the circus comes around, but couldn't tell.

The Story Is Spoiled.

But when I approached Publicity Manager Williams, who assuredly knows everything about the big show, on the subject, in the few words that I have given above he spoiled everything and left me a disappointed newsgatherer.

No, the colored fluid you will see being sold in glasses isn't red lemonade. I asked about that, too, for I supposed it was the old, orthodox circus drink just a little off color. But it's orangeade, just plain orangeade. Now that red lemonade has gone, do you suppose hot dogs will disappear next?

Then, there was the question of the trapeze. You know how your heart will thump, even after the nth time, when you see a man or woman leap in the air and catch a bar. And you long to know what the sensation of doing it is like.

I had anticipated what the performer would say to me when I interrogated him. He would be very foreign, of course, preferably French, and would say with a grand flourish, "It gives you ze thrill, Madame, ze thrill as nothing else. It is ze great advenchoor. It is like a leap into eternity for one mo-ment, zen it ees over. Each time it ees a new excitement."

Instead, when I was presented to a leading trapeze performer, he proved to be one Ernest Clarke, an Englishman, and he said simply, "To act on the trapeze is just like standing here; it is commonplace."

Oh, life, where is thy thrill? If this "most remarkable, thrilling and astounding aerial exhibition ever presented to the American public" (I quote from the program) is a mere commonplace to produce, what use is there to seek for adventure in the more conventional walks of life?

Some Compensations.

But for these disillusionments there were tremendous compensations. The first of these was the sideshow. I may add that it was my first sideshow, owing to circumstances beyond my control (namely, the people I went to circuses with), and I entered with fear lest the fat lady would be made up with pillows.

However, there was not a single disappointment. The fat lady was all the barker said she was, and I had stood by him and listened to every word—"fat, funny and fascinating." The stoutest cynic could not doubt the fact that she was all there.

I was no less an eye-witness to the armless man's shaving himself with his feet, with apparently less difficulty than the ordinary man complains of. As for the "blue man," I later saw him walking around with his off-stage clothes on, and so I can testify that he wasn't made up, though I can't tell how he got that way, as Val Vino, the artful lecturer, did.

Wife of the Clown.

If you have always believed, as I have, that circus folk are really, truly people and awfully human, wouldn't you dote on finding out after you had been talking to the wardrobe matron, who is a gentle, motherly woman, that she was the wife of the chief clown? Mrs. Hartzel didn't say whether or not Mr. Hartzel was funny all the time, but she did say that they were both happy all the time.

I have always wanted to know the true love story of a clown, and Friday, in his tent with all kinds of dough faces and funny boxes around, Joe Casino, who has been making crazy costumes and planning ridiculous stunts for years to make us hard-working people laugh, told me his. Joe is a little fellow who has turned somersaults on every continent, and has made even the Prince of Wales smile. A few years ago he met and married a handsome and successful actress who was on the legitimate stage. She died this spring.

"We didn't want to be separated," Joe said, "so she came into the circus with me, and I made a clown out of her. Oh, how she hated that. It killed her, I think." And the little fellow, whose business it is to be a high-rolling comedian, became very serious.

Just as circus men, contrary perhaps to popular conviction, love their wives, so do the girls love dainty clothes. The first thing Miss Leitzel, the very small but daring gymnast, said to me when we were seated in her private tent, was, "Do you like pretty things?" And she laid before my eyes the laciest, adorablest creations in hand-made lingerie, gifts which had just been made to her by the other girls. "Just because they know I like them so," she said.

A New Coat Suit.

A man brought in a parcel, then, and she opened it to show me a new befurred coat suit, which she patted affectionately as she told me of what a difference the war had made in the company, and how each one tried to do a little more than his bit now. "I've carried a pail of water many times to give the actors a drink," she said, "and many of the men who used never to do anything but their stunt help now to set up the tent, just to keep the show going."

That's the whole idea, to keep the show going, for somehow circus people are not content anywhere else. So said Sergeant W. F. Beerse, now stationed at Fort McPherson, but with the circus for fifteen years before he went into uniform, who was on the grounds Friday shaking hands with all his former comrades. He wants to help lick the kaiser then get back to the old job.

In spite of the rain a typical circus crowd was waiting at the gates when they were opened Friday afternoon. And there was a goodly number who stayed after all the wonderful feats, displays and exhibitions of the circus variety were over to the extra matinee, the wild west show. Today there will be a parade at 10 o'clock, with a chance to see the white horses, camels and elephants and then two more performances in the afternoon and evening, so that all the adults may have a chance to laugh and grow young with their youngsters.

CAPTAIN J. H. SLIGH DIES AT RED HILL

Captain J. H. Sligh, 87 years of age, died on Thursday night at his residence at Red Hill, Ga. Captain Sligh, who served throughout the civil war, was one of the most prominent citizens in that section of the state. He was born and reared at Newberry, S. C., moving to Franklin county, Georgia, thirty-five years ago. He was active in the Methodist church and interested in educational work.

Captain Sligh was married twice. He is survived by four children by the first marriage, Mrs. S. Y. Stribling, Roswell, Ga.; Mrs. E. L. Archer, Spartanburg, S. C.; Mrs. J. D. McMahan, Richland, S. C., and H. J. Sligh, Walhalla, S. C. Four children of the second marriage also survived, including Mrs. E. P. McCoy, Red Hill, Ga.; Miss Kittie Sligh, 250 Lee street, Atlanta; Professor W. L. Sligh, Homersville, Ga., and Otto Sligh, Atlanta, Ga.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at Red Hill.

WARDLAW CONFIDENT ATLANTA DISTRICT WILL RAISE QUOTA

In a statement given out Friday, W. C. Wardlaw, chairman of the executive committee for the sixth district, on the eve of the launching of the campaign for the fourth loan, drew attention to the extreme importance of this loan and expressed his confidence that the quota of $192,000,000 for the district would be raised.

Mr. Wardlaw's statement in full is as follows:

"The drive which the army of Liberty Loan workers starts today on the field of finance is just as important as the drive of the allies on the fields of Flanders. This is the day of individual responsibility. Should our armies shirk their responsibility the war would be lost and everything that we hold dear would be lost with it.

"If the people of this country shirk their duty and the Fourth Liberty Loan is not subscribed our armies may, from a lack of support from those at home, lose the victory and we at home lose our independence.

"The sixth federal reserve district is better organized than in any of the previous campaigns, more interest is being shown and I have the almost unanimous assurance of the 427 county chairmen that they will go over the top.

"Do your part and the loan will be a success."

AMUSEMENTS

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

Joe Bennett, the original Abe Kabibble, and his company of seven clever people appear for the last time at Loew's Grand today in "The Telephone Tangle." This is the headline act of a splendid show. All of the four other offerings are of a high-class and exceedingly entertaining. On the screen is Gladys Brockwell in "Kultur." There are four shows today at 2, 4, 7 and 9 p. m.

Keith Vaudeville

(At the Lyric.)

There will be a fine Keith vaudeville bill at the Lyric theater today. The Cheyenne Minstrels will be seen for the last time. This act has made a big hit. Then Jack Lemly and company in a musical fantasy, "A Night in June," has also scored heavily. There are three other first-class acts and a bunch of news views that will be certain to interest.

"Some Baby."

(At Atlanta Theater.)

If you want to laugh heartily, spontaneously and continuously, don't fail to attend the performance at the Atlanta theater on Monday night, when "Some Baby," the most amusing farce comedy that has been produced in America or England in the past twenty years, will be presented by a strictly high-class company for the first time in Atlanta. There is a spontaneity in the lines and in the acting with a stratum of burlesque. Seats are now on sale.
